$3500 LOSS AS FIRE IS STARTED BY VAGS

A loss estimated at $3500 resulted shortly after 4 o'clock this morning on South Spadra avenue, Fullerton, when a large barn, two automobiles, two tons of hay and twelve orange trees, the property of J. T. Hill, were destroyed by a fire believed to have been started by vagabonds.

The Fullerton fire department responded to an alarm, but due to the lack of water, was unable to save the barn and its contents.

Two horses, which were in the burning building, were led out, but attempted in their terror to rush back.

The medicos are divided into six different classes as follows: Physicians and surgeons, 6242; osteopaths, 542; naturopaths, 53; druggists, 136; chiropractors, 191; and midwives, 95.

USE PRUNES TO MAKE PENITENTIARY BOOZE

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Roy Hill, sergeant of the guard of Sing Sing, has been delegated to keep close tabs on prunes used in the prison so the prisoners cannot make liquor from them. Hill is virtually the "prohibition enforcement agent" of the prison.

Warden Lawes has taken this precaution because a couple of quarts of prune juice were found hidden away and fermenting near the kitchen. Attendants suspecting prisoners were making spirits beverage and confiscated the juice. The hooch makers did not get a chance to quench their thirst.

SEA TRAGEDY SURVIVORS ASHORE

Members of Pirrie Crew Found on Beach; Fear 15 Persons Lost

SEATTLE, Nov. 30.—One dead body and two men alive but near exhaustion, were found early today on the beach at Clallam, Wash., by searchers looking for traces of the wreck of the Chilean barge W. J. Pirrie.

The men were from the Pirrie, according to a brief message to Seattle.

The Pirrie was reported ashore Friday night and until today her fate had been a mystery.

The Merchants exchange received word earlier in the day that the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan, due today at Vancouver, B. C., has sighted a schooner answering the description of the W. J. Pirrie, lost in a storm off the Southern Washington coast last Saturday.

The schooner was at sea, proceeding under her own canvas, and apparently in good condition, the report said.

The message raised hopes that the Pirrie, with her crew of fifteen and Captain A. B. Jensen, his wife and infant child were safe.

Immediately following the receipt of the wireless message, hope was changed to despair by the finding of the one body and the two exhausted men on the beach at Clallam.

Word of the finding of the bodies came to Seattle via wireless from the weather bureau at Clallam bay.

No further word indicating the fate of the remainder of the crew had been received here early today, but hope was practically abandoned that the others will be found alive.

Standard Oil Plans To Cut Huge Melon With Workers

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 30.—Employees of the Standard Oil company of Indiana will cut a $12,500,000 melon this Christmas, according to plans of officials of the company, made public here today.

The plan provides each employee who has been in the company's service one year may subscribe for stock in an amount equal to his annual salary, the company to pay for half of the stock. The employee will be allowed to make his payments at the rate of 20 per cent for five years.

The annual payroll amounts to $25,000,000 and if all employees were to take advantage of the offer it would cost the company $12,500,000.

The plan, it was believed, will be adopted by all Standard Oil companies which have in the aggregate of 250,000 employees.

OIL BARON'S WIDOW SEEKING VINDICATION

ARDMORE, Okla., Nov. 30.—Public vindication of her husband will be sought by Mrs. Jake L. Hamon, widow of the Republican national committeeman and millionaire oil king, who died from a bullet wound here last Friday, according to the widow's plans today.

Mrs. Hamon, endorsed to succeed her husband as the Republican national committeeman from Oklahoma at an informal meeting of Republicans who attended Hamon's funeral yesterday, has declared her willingness to make the run. Her selection, she believes, would be a repudiation of the charge that her husband had been slain by his former oil secretary, Mrs. Clara Smith Hamon, wife of Hamon's nephew.

The whereabouts of the accused woman continued a mystery today. A tip that she was getting her mail at Post Falls, Idaho, east of Spokane, Wash., was investigated by officials.

PAROLE ASKED FOR DR. HARRIS' SLAYER

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—The Board of Parole has recommended the release on parole of Dr. Eldredge G. Atwood, an osteopath, who is serving a life sentence for killing Dr. Wilfred T. Harris, president of the Massachusetts college of Osteopathy, in July, 1916. Doctor Atwood was engaged to marry Celia P. Adams, also an osteopath, who committed suicide. At his trial evidence was given that she had admitted to him improper relations with Doctor Harris. Upon learning of her death, Atwood went to Harris' apartment and shot him five times.

JUDGE WARNS CROWD OF SPICY TESTIMONY

OAKLAND, Cal., Nov. 30.—With the presiding judge warning the spectators that the testimony will likely be salacious and asking them to withdraw at times from the courtroom, the presentation of evidence in the trial of Mrs. Virginia Clarke, charged with the murder of her husband, Chester J. Clarke, was under way today in the court of Superior Judge G. Quinn.

The question of exclusion of the Clarke children from the courtroom brought the first tilt between the attorney for the defendant and district attorney.

PASADENA CHIEF OF POLICE QUILTS POST

PASADENA, Nov. 30.—Chief of Police Wilbur McIntyre resigned today. His resignation, effective tomorrow night, was accepted by the city commission. No reason was assigned and the resignation came entirely as a surprise.

CONGRESS TO MEET NEXT MONDAY

Labor, Veterans and Farmers Lead In Demand for New Legislation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Congress, upon reconvening next Monday will find on the capitol steps a huge pile of demands for new legislation.

Although congressional leaders have stated that the next session will be so short that there will be little time for any legislation except the regular appropriation bills, undismayed representatives of dozens of organizations are arriving here daily to tell congress what it ought to do.

Veteran congressmen, such as Champ Clark, believe congress will be in continuous session for more than a year after President-elect Harding takes office.

May Urge Tax Revision
President Wilson probably will make several legislative recommendations, including revision in taxes. Representatives of the farmers and congressmen from farming districts will have an extensive program of agricultural readjustment to submit. With it also will be demands for some temporary legislation to relieve the situation resulting from the decline in prices.

Service men, through the American legion, have agreed to make a "big drive" for the passage of the fourfold plan of relief as recommended by the legion.

Will Seek High Tariff
Business representatives already have announced their intention of asking deferment of the December 15 taxes because of the business slump. Later, it is proposed to demand revenue revision and a high tariff.

The next section of the parade before congress will be reserved for the returning organizations which want congress to make Sunday "blue" to legislate race track gambling, boxing and other sports out of the country and to provide for federal censorship of virtually all amusement.

Irish-American organizations are prepared to march upon the capitol with a demand that congress provide funds for an ambassador to "the republic of Ireland" and otherwise aid the "cause."

GRAND JURY BEGINS MOONEY CASE PROBE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—The grand jury investigation of the latest turn in the Thomas Mooney case—the alleged statement of Detective Draper Hand to Mayor James Rolph that he personally aided in "framing" Mooney—important evidence against Mooney—was under way today.

As a starter for its probe the grand jury had before it the testimony of William H. Taylor, of Stockton, to the effect that he saw a man place a suitcase at the scene of the prepared day bomb explosion as a result of which Mooney was convicted of murder.

Taylor said the man was not Mooney.

The bomb Mooney was convicted of setting was supposed to have been prepared in a suitcase left on the sidewalk.

Taylor declared he had been prevented by police from testifying at Mooney's trial.

She Is Leader In Move to Organize Legion Auxiliaries

Miss Pauline Curnick, a leader in welfare work for sick and disabled soldiers during the war, has been appointed executive secretary in charge of affairs of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion. Her work will be the organization of the auxiliary under the free-rein policies adopted by the Legion at the Cleveland convention.

HARDING PARTY IN TOUR OVER JAMAICA

ABOARD S. S. PASTORES, Nov. 30.—(By Wireless)—President-elect Harding was to spend the day in Jamaica, most of the time riding through the famous blue mountains of that island.

Docking at Kingston, he was to have breakfast with General Probyn, governor of the island, who later expected to escort the Harding party over the beautiful mountain roads to Port Antonio on the northern rim of the island.

The vacation party encountered moderate seas yesterday and last night. Many of the party succumbed to sickness but the president-elect entertained himself with the usual deck sports.

Wireless greetings from the Imperial Association of Jamaica were received today. The greeting was substituted for a public reception at Kingston. The latter was abandoned at Harding's request.

FIVE MEN INDICTED FOR ATTACK ON GIRLS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Grand jury indictments containing five counts of criminal assault, assault with intent to do bodily harm and abduction were filed today against Allen McDonnell, Ed (K. O.) Krusky, Tom Brady, Edward (Spud) Murphy and James Carey as a result of the fielding of a "blue" party which was held early Thursday morning on Jean Stanley of Portland, Ore., and Jessie Montgomery of Reno, Nev.

Frank (Bevo) Kruvosky, established an alibi and was released. The indictments were returned after a long session of the grand jury during which the two girls, both hysterical, related the story of the alleged attack. A crowd of men which the police said included scores of underworld characters, thronged the corridors outside the grand jury room. A special police detail was on hand to preserve order.

PONZI IN PLEA OF GUILTY; GETS 5 YEARS

WILSON WILL DEVOTE HIMSELF TO WRITING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Although it has been generally understood that President Wilson, after he leaves the White House on March 4, will devote his time to writing, this fact has become known with a degree of finality. It also became known that Wilson will make his home in Washington, but that he has not obtained a residence.

MANAGER KENWORTHY TO LEAD SEATTLE BASEBALLERS

HANFORD, Cal., Nov. 30.—W. H. Klepper, president of the Seattle baseball club of the Pacific Coast league, has accepted the terms of William J. Kenworthy to act as manager during the 1921 season.

U. S. C. WANTS IN SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Definite action was expected today by the colleges holding membership in the Pacific Coast conference on the application of the University of Southern California to enter the conference.

RECENT OUTBREAKS PLACE PARLIAMENT UNDER SUSPICION

LONDON, Nov. 30.—That the Sinn Fein Parliament has formally declared a state of war with England was the belief today of many officials of the Irish office.

The Irish office has no direct information that war has been declared by Dail Eireann, the Sinn Fein Parliament, but evidence is accumulating to indicate that such a step had been taken.

Backed by the formal declaration, Sinn Fein forces have leaped to a renewal of the attack on British forces here and in Ireland. The Dublin murders and the attacks on police patrols culminating in the slaughter of 16 black and tans at Kilmichael, were accepted here as the work of men who regarded themselves as carrying on a legalized war.

The Sinn Feiners who surrounded the two police lorries at Kilmichael killing all but one of the patrol, wore uniforms and steel helmets, according to dispatches today. This was regarded as an attempt to conform to the regulations of civilized warfare. Never before in any such attack have the Sinn Feiners appeared in uniforms. Among documents pointing to a declaration of war was a Dail Eireann decree printed in the Freeman's Journal in Dublin. It instructed physicians that British soldiers "wounded in action" should be cared for.

HEAVY GUARD ON DUTY IN PARLIAMENT

LONDON, Nov. 30.—British officialdom moved today in fear of a second Guy Fawkes plot to blow up the houses of parliament.

While government offices functioned as usual, the work was distracted behind a screen of guards and only in the presence of persons who had proven their identity and their loyalty to the government.

In the houses of parliament many plain clothesmen circulated with the crowds. They were expert marksmen, ready for action.

These sentries occupied every point of vantage in all government buildings but particularly the house of commons. They were ordered to shoot to kill if any emergency arose.

Members of parliament known to lean toward the Sinn Fein were warned by outsiders to remain away from the buildings. This was taken by many to mean that a Guy Fawkes plot was being hatched, its instigators desiring to have their friends.

The warning was disregarded by all the Sinn Fein sympathizers. They took part in the sessions as usual and without a sign of nervousness.

The Liverpool fires and the threat of incendiaryism in London were reflected today in a great rush for fire insurance. Lloyds reported an unprecedented demand for policies.

Although no fires of consequence occurred last night, the guard here strengthened and additional squads went on duty in Liverpool, Southampton and at other ports. For some reason it was believed plotters were especially anxious to cripple British shipping. A strong guard was organized in Glasgow, also.

At least one incendiary bomb in the warehouse district here last night caused trifling damage.

BURN VILLAGE IN REVENGE FOR AMBUSH

DUBLIN, Nov. 30.—Smouldering ruins in the neighborhood of Macroom today marked the funeral rites of 16 police murdered in ambush Sunday night.

Immediate reprisals on the population resulted in the burning of cottages, creameries and other buildings.

The roundup of Sinn Fein leaders continued today. Activity here was marked last night by raids on the newspapers as well as the Sinn Fein bank.

The Freeman's Journal was reported to have been fired after it was formed today in the editorial rooms. Much damage was done to the Irish Times building where the staff was surprised by the soldiers.

SMALL POWERS HAIL U. S. MANDATORY NOTE

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Announcement of the purchase of Earl Sheeley, first baseman for the Salt Lake City baseball club, of the Pacific Coast league, was made by Charles Comiskey of the White Sox here today.

Sheeley led the Pacific Coast league last year with a batting average of .373. He also made 32 home runs.

REGISTER FUND FOR DESTITUTE TOTS IS $484

The Register's fund for the relief of starving children in Europe at noon today reached the sum of $384. The fact that this amount has been subscribed so quickly indicates that the contributors have deep appreciation of the situation and sympathy for the distress in those countries where children are suffering for the lack of proper nourishment and clothing.

The Christmas season—the season of good cheer—is near, and while the people of this nation will be enjoying the comforts of home, an abundance of things to eat, plenty of raiment and the happy times of the Christmas holidays, the children of many of the European countries will be suffering hardships that will have an important bearing on their future lives. Some will survive, others will not.

A contribution of $10 may save the life of some little one. It is hoped the people of this nation will respond liberally to the call for financial help. A campaign similar to that being conducted by The Register in behalf of the starving children is in progress in many cities and sections of the United States.

Many of the churches of this and other cities have raised or will raise funds for the Near East Relief, which is being a feature of the Christmas holidays. It is possible that efforts also will be made to obtain subscriptions at the churches for the general fund being raised for distribution by Herbert Hoover.

Contributions to the Register fund were made between yesterday noon and noon today, as follows:

SMALL POWERS HAIL U. S. MANDATORY NOTE

GENEVA, Nov. 30.—America's voice was heard in the league of nations assembly today when Secretary Colby's Moscoptanian note to Great Britain caused wide comment.

The secretary's note, demanding recognition of the commercial rights of other countries in the mandate territory was greeted warmly by neutral states without mandatorily. It was declared the American note had added strength to the delegates seeking to air the activities of the league council in the distribution and administration of mandates over German colonies.

It was believed certain the mandatory action would be considered in the assembly today although it may be delayed. Other matters expected to arise soon are the Armenian situation and the admission of

ESTATE

PLEGGED ANEW
TO BOY SCOUT

The heart of every Rotarian in Santa Ana was touched today with the appeal of the Boy Scout movement. It was Boy Scout day at the Rotary meeting. The presence of five scouts, the demonstration they gave of scout work and brief talks from two of the men who are interested in Boy Scout work resulted in renewing the interest of the Rotarians in the work in this county.

Walter Vandermast, chairman of the boy work of the Rotary Club, was chairman. E. E. Heidt, Boy Scout executive for Orange county, directed five scouts, George McConnell, Harold Vieira, Keith Beisel, Jack Taylor and Robert Gilbert, in a number of demonstrations, including bandaging and signaling.

William McKay, circulation manager of the Register, and scoutmaster of Troop No. 9, outlined some of his experiences with newsboys and carrier boys that has led him to believe strongly in work among boys as a means of making better men.

The Rotary Club pledged itself to go 100 per cent strong into membership in the new Community hospital organization.

M. O. Robbins, chairman of the club, announced that in the October contest the Santa Ana club with a percentage of 98.48 in attendance led the entire district and was third club in the world in attendance for that month.

Messages were written on slips of paper by Rotarians present, to John A. McFadden, a member, who is in the Community hospital following an operation.

A feature of today's meeting was singing by the newly organized Rotary quartet. The singers are Robert Brown, E. E. Heidt, Fred A. Ross and A. V. Napier. C. A. Gustlin was at the piano.

Less Embarrassment.

POLICE THINK INSANE MAN RESPONSIBLE FOR ATTACK AT FULLERTON

Police at Fullerton today continued to search for the mysterious man who Sunday night flourished a knife and robbed a Fullerton Junior college girl and her male escort on the Fullerton high school campus.

The possibility that the holdup man may have been the same who Saturday night stabbed Carrie Ullon, 13, near a cemetery in Los Angeles, was expressed in Los Angeles.

The city clerk at Riverside has received a letter, evidently from an insane person, as follows:

"God has been teaching me for the past six years to kiss and kill young women. I hear your city has cut out kissing. How about the other—I want to know."

Authorities at Riverside and Los Angeles are inclined to link this letter to the man who attacked Carrie Ullon.

22 MILLIONS PAID
FOR MEXICO ESTATE

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 30.—General Luis Terrezas, who under Diaz owned two-thirds of the state of Chihuahua and all the cattle thereon, and who has been in exile in El Paso since the overthrow of Diaz, has sold his vast holdings for $22,000,000, according to a report today in local financial circles.

Terrezas at one time was reputed to own an estate valued at more than Rockefeller's wealth.

He is 92 years old. The purchasers are New York capitalists.

MANY PROBLEMS
AWAITING NEW GOVERNORS

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 30.—Six important problems confronting the states at the present time were scheduled to be taken up at the governors' conference here, Dec. 1, 2 and 3.

About 35 governors and from 10 to 15 governors-elect are expected to be present.

Federal encroachment on state authority and functions are to be discussed by Governors Robert A. Cooper of South Carolina and Robert D. Carey of Wyoming in papers on "The Decentralization of Governmental Functions and Activities."

Gov. Frank G. Lowden of Illinois and Gov. Percival Clement of Vermont have also been asked by Miles C. Riley, secretary of the conference, to prepare papers on the same topic.

State railroad commissioners, who are vitally interested in the question of federal usurpation of state authority on account of the powers granted the interstate commerce commission, will present a report through their national organization.

Members of the commission on unconstitutional state laws will also have something to say on this subject.

The report of the Lockwood commission in New York state, charging combines and intrigues among contractors, material men, and labor leaders and alleging the existence of "graft on a royal scale," will undoubtedly be taken up by Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York in discussion of "Housing Problems and Means of Promoting Home Ownership."

The housing problem is particularly acute in urban districts, and the revelations made to the investigators furnish one clue to the reasons for the crisis.

The rural phase of the housing problem will be an important part of a discussion on the South Dakota rural credit law by Gov. Peter Norbeck of that state.

The South Dakota law is designed to provide state loans to prospective farm owners. The Kansas industrial relations court, bitterly assailed by Samuel Gompers and other labor leaders and as ardently defended by its authors, will be discussed by Gov. Henry J. Allen. Governor Allen was the principal figure in the enactment of the law designed to prevent industrial disputes and troubles. The topic will probably pave the way for a general discussion by the governors of the entire labor situation.

Gov. William C. Sproul of Pennsylvania will address the conference on "State Income and Disbursements." He will take up in his paper means of providing money to meet increases in state expenses.

"The Budget and State Business Methods" will be discussed by Gov. John G. Townsend of Delaware.

The sixth topic scheduled for discussion will be "The General Agricultural Situation," phases of which will be taken up by Gov. John M. Parker of Louisiana.

PAULARINO VICTIM OF CAR CRASH ON WAY TO RECOVERY, IS REPORT

Leonard Flint of Paularino, severely injured Saturday night in an automobile accident as he was returning from a dance at Olive, is improving, according to reports received from the Community hospital this afternoon. He is said to be well out of danger, and everything points to a speedy recovery.

Flint suffered a fractured skull when he attempted to leap out of the machine just before the crash. The machine belonged to Joseph Lieberman, who was driving, and who suffered a few painful bruises and cuts, but was otherwise uninjured. Leonard Flint and Merle Liebey, the other occupants of the car, suffered only a few minor cuts and bruises. A Leonard Flint was the only one of the party confined in the hospital.

W. S. HART WINNER
OF $87,000 IN SUIT

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—William S. Hart, film hero, today was awarded $87,739 in his suit against the Thomas H. Ince production company.

Vigilation of contract was charged by Hart, who sued for more than $100,000.

AMUSEMENTS

VIOLA DANA'S SHOULDERS
UNTAMABLE, CLAIM

Viola Dana now has the role of a chorus girl whose specialty is "shimmy" dancing. Advance reports indicate that the vest-pocket star's many admirers will discover when "The Chorus Girl's Romance" appears on the screen at the Princess Theatre tonight, that Miss Dana shakes a wicked shoulder. In the brief vacation that directly preceded her start in her new production Miss Dana spent many hours before a mirror teaching her shoulders to misbehave.

Indeed, as Marcia Meadows, Miss Dana is required to display rare facility in the art of the undulating dance which depends less upon the feet than any other style of terpsichore. The little chorus girl wins a Yale "grind" for a husband, quits the stage, and then discovers that his genius is unappreciated and the family must starve unless she does something. That something she does with her head—she blossoms out as a literary prodigy, while her bespectacled husband shakes off the effects of much poring over books to become a trapeze performer, so that his shoulders and Marcia's head cooperate to keep the wolf from the door.

It stops the unhealthy excretion which forms in scales and flakes. This is commonly known as dandruff.

Most People

Famo will grow new, healthy hair. It makes the hair soft and luxuriant.

Famo gives added beauty to the hair. It prevents falling hair and itchy scalp.

Seborrhea afflicts most people.

Deep down in the sebaceous scale glands it attacks the hair roots.

Allowed to run unchecked, it is fatal to hair, just as Pyorrhea is fatal to the teeth.

It is not enough to remove the dandruff scale.

The deadly Seborrhea germ itself must be destroyed.

Famo destroys it and nourishes the hair roots.

Famo Is Free
From Alcohol

Famo is not an experiment. It contains ingredients well known to the medical profession.

But until they were combined in Famo they had never been used in treating the hair and scalp.

For three years Famo was tested before it was offered to the public.

By its success in thousands of cases it has proven that it is the one treatment for Seborrhea.

Famo contains no alcohol.

Alcohol dries the scalp and hastens grayness.

Use Famo Every Day

Famo retards grayness by making hair and scalp healthy and keeping them so.

Famo should be used every day. Its application takes but a moment.

No massaging or shampooing is necessary.

Sprinkle Famo on the head and almost instantly it is absorbed by the scalp and is fighting the Seborrhea microbe.

HISTORIC CLOCK IS STILL BEING USED

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Clock makers nowadays would have little repairing if their work stood up as well as that of an unidentified maker almost 200 years ago.

In the midst of New York's busiest district, at 44 John street, stands the famous old John Street Methodist church and witness to the long history of the church hangs an old pendulum clock on the wall of the basement meeting room.

More than 153 years ago John Wesley himself, founder of Methodism in England, sent the clock over here to Philip Embury for use in the original building of the church, erected through the efforts of Embury. Once a week John V. Westland assumes the responsibility of winding up the single heavy weight with the original hand-made key "and if folks would just leave the clock alone," he declares, "and not try to set it so often, as though it were one of these modern up-to-second affairs, it would keep the best time in the world."

At any rate the works—which are said to be of wood, though Mr. Westland has never had occasion to open the big painted face and examine them—have marked off the hours for hundreds of services without a murmur.

Two buildings have preceded the present church edifice. The first, erected in 1766 through the valiant efforts of Embury, was outgrown in time; the second was found by a city ruling to be out of the building line, and the present edifice, while comparatively modern, retains the appearance of age by its dignified, unpretentious interior and the simple lines of pillars and galleries.

In the downstairs meeting room are the plain, strongly built wooden desk and altar rail in daily use—the handiwork of the pioneer hands of Philip Embury. In this room noon-day meetings are conducted, not by the church, but by the business men's meeting group, composed of business men and women in the vicinity, who arrange for the lay speakers and music themselves.

HICK HUMOR.

"How is the new play getting on, pretty brisk?"

"Gawsh, no! There's so little doin' they've laid off the hands of the town clock."

DEMPSEY HITS HAY

EARLY EVERY NIGHT

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Jack Dempsey, king of the world's heavyweights, was in the center of a buzzing group of scribes during one of the recent conferences for the Dempsey-Carpentier bout.

"Called you up at 11 o'clock last night but couldn't get you," one of the scribes said to him.

"Eleven o'clock?" the big champ answered. "No wonder you couldn't get me. I'm between the sheets every night at ten."

He wasn't talking for publicity—he doesn't need a press agent. He was telling the truth.

Other champions in other days succumbed to the "bright lights." Others found training a bore and a task when they reached the summit of success. With greenback passports into fast circles, they went the pace that kills.

But not so Dempsey. Critics after looking him over in training have given the opinion that he's in better form now than on that Fourth of July a year ago when he won the championship. He has the clear eye and the ruddy tinged skin of an athlete in perfect condition.

"How do you put in a day?" he was asked.

"Well, I pile out about 6 o'clock and after some setting up exercises I do a turn through Central park," he said. "Then a good breakfast and a rest of an hour or so and then a long walk. After lunch I go over to training quarters and put in two or three hours with the rope, the bells, the medicine ball, some shadow boxing and a few rounds with Bill Tate, Ray Smith and some other boys who come around at different times. I mix golf in every time I get the chance. It's great exercise and first class diversion."

Talk with him for an hour and he will scarcely ever speak in the first person. He's no master of English, but he's grammatical and he isn't handicapped with a lot of vulgar parlance of the ring.

It's a hard task to get him to talk about any of his conquests. He always refers to one of his vanquished opponents as a "mighty good boy."

During one of his recent fanning bees with a bunch of admirers he listened with tolerant politeness to one who insisted on telling him how good he was, how he had picked him to beat Willard in three rounds and how he was going to ruin Carpentier.

"Say," the champion interrupted, "seems to me you're a lot more sure about it than I am. I'm not so certain I'm going to win that bout. Carpentier is a great boy. He's bound to be a fighter with the experience he's had. I never pick a winner in advance on anything."

The bill also would authorize the President to transfer to the department at any time the whole or any part of any bureau, office or other division or branch of the public service engaged in work relating to the social welfare of the people.

An assistant secretary of social welfare, to be appointed by the President at a salary of $5000 per year also is provided for under the bill.

GRAVEL RATE CUT BY PACIFIC ELECTRIC IS ORDERED BY RY. BOARD

In a decision which will materially affect the transportation cost of gravel, sand, and crushed rock imports to Santa Ana, the State Railroad Commission ordered the Pacific Electric Railway to reduce practically all of its carload rates on these commodities.

The decrease will range from 5 to 35 cents a ton and will affect a large volume of the P. E.'s business from various gravel pits into Los Angeles, and to other cities and towns in Southern California.

Complication of the new tariffs will begin immediately and as soon as they have been completed, which will probably be within ten days, the new rates will go into effect.

ATTORNEYS BATTLE OVER CRASH ACTION

Attorneys for the American Products Company of Fullerton were today arguing before Superior Judge J. W. Curtis, sitting in place of Judge Z. B. West, an appeal from the decision of the justice court in an action brought by Roswell Frantz through the Orange County Auto club against the company for damages growing out of an automobile accident on the Fullerton-Anaheim highway some time ago.

Frantz, who was represented by Attorneys Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus, claimed that an employee of the corporation, Tom Nishikawa, who was driving a truck, had stopped on the main traveled portion of the highway, and that the tail light of the truck was not visible. Frantz, who was driving behind the truck, crashed into it. Frantz was given judgment in the justice court.

The American Products company, through Attorneys Jennings and Blicher of Los Angeles, is presenting the matter on appeal to the Superior Court.

MRS. E. E. JAHRAUS CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Elmer E. Jahraus, of Laguna Beach, died this morning at the Good Samaritan hospital, Los Angeles, following an operation performed at that institution six weeks ago. Mrs. Jahraus had been suffering from a complication of diseases and with her strength exhausted by the ravages of the ailments was unable to recover from the operation. She would have been 52 years of age had she lived until Christmas day. She is survived by her husband, Elmer E. Jahraus, her son, Joseph R., who is manager of the lumber yard at Laguna Beach, and daughter, Pauline C., a teacher at Jefferson school, this city.

Mrs. Jahraus was the twin sister of Mrs. Emma Bissonette of Glenn, Mich., and a sister of Joseph Beadle of Los Angeles, Richard Beadle of Gresham, Oregon, and Mrs. William Elliott, of Richmond, Mich.

Funeral services will be held at the Mission Funeral Home of Mills and Winbiger, this city, Thursday at 1:30 p. m., with Rev. W. H. L. Benton, rector of the Church of the Messiah, officiating.

Mrs. Jahraus was born near River, Mich., Dec. 25, 1868, and came to Santa Ana nineteen years ago. The family resided here for two years, then moving to Laguna Beach. She was devoted to her home and family. Of a cheery disposition and always offering a helping hand to those in need of assistance, Mrs. Jahraus was loved by all who made her acquaintance. The high esteem in which she was held by her friends was evidenced by the large numbers of bouquets sent to her at the hospital.

She had been active at Laguna Beach and her counsel and assistance will be missed by those who have been associated with her in her life at the beach town.

London streets, if placed end to end, would form a road long enough to stretch across Europe from the North Cape to Constantinople.

A telescope, which it is claimed will be the largest in the world, is to be erected in Vancouver, B. C. The lens will be 10 feet in diameter.

IOWA SENATOR HAS SOCIAL WELFARE BILL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Creation of a department of social welfare to safeguard and promote the social welfare of the people of the United States is provided for in a bill prepared by Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, for introduction at the coming session of Congress. The head of the department will be a member of the cabinet.

The new department would have transferred to its jurisdiction the Public Health Service and the hygienic laboratory, now under the treasury; the Bureau of Education from the Department of Interior; the Children's Bureau, women's Bureau, the Bureau of Industrial Housing and Immigration, the United States Employment Service and the United States Employees Commission, now under the Labor Department, and the office of Home Economics from the Department of Agriculture.

The bill also would authorize the President to transfer to the department at any time the whole or any part of any bureau, office or other division or branch of the public service engaged in work relating to the social welfare of the people.

An assistant secretary of social welfare, to be appointed by the President at a salary of $5000 per year also is provided for under the bill.

The Fate of Heroes.
Father (endeavoring to blend instruction and amusement)—"Yes, children, Mr. Lloyd George saved his country just as Joan of Arc saved France."

RECOMMENDS LIGHT EATING AFTER 40

LONDON, Nov. 30.—In an article contributed to the Continental Edition of the London Mail, Walter M. Gallighan says after forty years of year and tear the human body needs care for the preservation of health and energy and the prolongation of life. Some persons are in the prime of life at 40, but others show the first signs of age. Continuing, Gal-

lighan says:
In the mid-period of life there is often an increase in weight and a tendency in some cases to obesity. A surplus of fat is beneficial in childhood and youth, provided that it is not excessive. During growth plumpness is desirable, but after maturity fatness is not always an indication of fitness.

Wiry, muscular, energetic men remain young longer than fat men. Women naturally are provided with more fat than men, and in their case a slight embonpoint at middle-age is a mark of health.

Over-eating and the injudicious use of alcoholic drinks in middle age shorten the lives of a host of people. Probably over-eating causes more illness than free indulgence stimulating drink.

At 50 many persons develop a new interest in the pleasures of the table. They regard the enhanced enjoyment of eating as a sign of vigor and indulge their desire for good dinners. Unless a middle aged man takes constant exercise he cannot digest and assimilate his heavy meals. The result is increased blood pressure, self poisoning through fermentation in the digestive organs, and the beginning of senile decay.

After the fourth decade of life the body does not require the same amount of food that is needed in the years of growth and of constant activity. No sedentary middle aged ally curtailing the diet must be plain and the quantity eaten limited strictly to the repair of tissue expended in work.

Adding to the bulk of the body in middle age is risky. This does not mean that the diet should be Spartan. It must be simple and moderate. Tasty dishes tempt stout people to eat too freely. Corpulence may be reduced by abstaining from fat meats, sugar, soups and pastry. Bread and potatoes should be eaten rather sparingly. Fresh fruit and green vegetables may be taken regularly in moderation.

GOOD EVENING.

More helpful than all wisdom is one draught of simple human pity that will not forsake us.—Eliot.

A BIG CHRISTMAS

The general lowering of prices in Santa Ana stores is looked on with general satisfaction by those who are planning to make this a big Christmas.

Santa Ana merchants have promptly responded to the opportunity to lower prices. The cutting of prices coming just before the opening of the Christmas season will have a decided effect in increasing buying.

Merchants here have prepared for a big Christmas. They have seen to it that goods were bought at figures that give them opportunity to under-price Los Angeles stores. This effort has been a conscious and a successful effort. Anyone who makes a comparison of stocks and prices will find that Santa Ana in both has all that buyers could ask.

Assurance is given that Christmas trade in Santa Ana is on a solid footing. Years of fair dealing with their customers have established confidence in Santa Ana's merchants.
Those merchants in telling their customers today that there is advantage for the buyer who trades
at home—advantage in actual dollars and cents—have the weight of years of business integrity to back up their statements.

People will have a lot more things for Christmas this year than they had last year. This is indicated by the early sales being made in local stores.

There is every reason why Santa Ana should have a big Christmas.
The year has been the biggest year
in its history in permanent growth.
The prospects for a big 1921 are wonderfully bright. The bigger and longer the Christmas season is, the better Christmas will it be.

That Christmas buying has started early is significant of the fact that the people of the Santa Ana valley are consciously planning to make this a big Christmas.

NO RELIEF IN SIGHT

Newspapers over the country are looking in vain for some of the price-cut lightning to strike some of the things that go to make up the cost of getting out newspapers.

The last number of the Inland Printer has the following satirical paragraph:

"If the price of paper goes any higher, they're going to make shoes out of leather again."

This witticism, while taking an unnecessary fling at the shoe manufacturers, points out a broad element of truth; paper is a costly commodity and prospects of its dropping in price are decidedly remote.

Statistics given to newspapers by manufacturers, who say that it will be many months before any reduction in the prices of paper is possible, show that the present demand for paper is far greater than the output of the mills. There are hundreds of papers in the country that would use a great deal more paper now if they could get it. Even though paper mills are able to increase their production, these papers will seize every bit that it is possible for them to seize. Newspapers generally are admitting that so long as the demand is greater than production there will be no relief in sight.

The labor situation is not a factor for encouragement for the newspaper trade. Trade journals say that there is no likelihood of any substantial reduction anywhere in wages
in composing rooms and press-rooms.
Rather, owing to the fact that apprentices in the printing trade are getting to be scarcer than hen's teeth, the outlook for an over-supply of labor gives no encouragement to the publisher who is hoping for costs
in his business to drop.

PREPAREDNESS

It is probable that section 69 of the army reorganization bill, which was killed in the last session of congress, will be brought up again as a "rider" to the army appropriation bill. Section 69 would automatically put the draft act into effect whenever the President of Congress declared a "national emergency."

There has not been as yet any very definitely formed national opinion in regard to compulsory military service. Most citizens, including the service men of the recent war, divide on this question as on others.
Many who oppose compulsory military service asavoring of Prussianism favor the less militaristic, but equally compulsory universal physical training.

It is a problem to which the nation should give grave consideration.
Granting that military preparedness is essential to the nation's safety, are there not other things equally essential which have been even more grossly neglected? Figures compiled by Dr. E. B. Rosa of the United States Bureau of Standards show that 93 cents out of every dollar of the national budget this year has been spent for "wars, past, present and to come," while only one cent of each dollar has gone for education and the public health.

A little hard thinking on the part of the public should lead to the conclusion that there is something wrong in those proportions. If it is true that we can not get along with less military and naval expenditure, is it not equally true that we can not afford to get along without greater expenditure for mental and physical education? True preparedness requires education and health as well as guns and military discipline.

Your Job

World's Markets
Your job is a tremendous part of your life. Not only does it directly consume one-third of your life each business day, but also with its three hours over the eight at your desk to cover travel to and from and luncheon, 11 out of 16 waking hours are absorbed.

To enjoy life is, therefore, to enjoy your job. Work is not designed merely to bring in money that one may enjoy life when the day's work at the office is over. Work is a prerequisite for enjoyment. It remains a joy when so-called pleasures cloy and pall. For there are three things essential to enjoyment.

Analyze your favorite sport, your favorite play or your favorite book.
In each you will find a contrast between test and suspense. Contrast is the outstanding factor in your morning plunge. Contest with conditions, with competitors, with yourself is the element that makes business the keenest of games. Suspense is the element that keeps one up to appreciation. And the element that is a mild form of suspense.

Your job molds you, even as you mold your job. It is inevitably what your power is to make it.

Saving the Missions

Stockton Record
Again we are told that plans are being completed to bring about the preservation of the twenty-one missions on El Camino Real. The California Mission League, with such men as Herbert Hoover and Luther Burbank on the executive committee, is pledged to work until the last of the old mission units constructed throughout California again becomes a mecca for travelers. Prominent women, as well as men, have been named as interested in the work which should have the support of every Californian and every California organization.

These landmarks, though of sectarian origin, are a heritage of the entire state and should be cherished for their historic value as well as for the picturesque touch they lend to the landscape. They represent and are almost the sole reminders of an early period of California life marked by sublime devotion. They are torch-lights along the way of our earliest civilization.

We believe the women of California can do much to create a sentiment for heroic work in saving the missions. It is largely because of the interests and efforts of women that the East has preserved many of the milestones of its past. Our women's clubs could do much to promote an interest. But everybody, men women and children should jump in and boost for the project.

Court Vindicated

Riverside Press
We have been so much interested in the larger aspects of the election that we are liable to lose sight of some significant and important results in state elections; and conspicuous among these was the vindication of the industrial court in Kansas through the reelection of Governor Allen by an overwhelming majority. The court was made the issue in the campaign and certain interests of capital worked hand in hand with labor leaders in opposition to Governor Allen. The result shows that the people of the Sunflower state believe heartily in the experiment of compulsory arbitration as provided in this system of an industrial court; and their judgment is entitled to respect.

The court provided under the Kansas law is probably not a perfect system; but it at least is a beginning in a workable plan for settling industrial troubles in accordance with the principles of equity and with some consideration of the general public as well as the parties to a dispute between capital and labor.
The plan has been in operation long enough to demonstrate that it has many excellent features. Kansas may not have solved the perplexing problems of modern industrial life, but it has taken a long step in the right direction.

Incidentally a mighty good man for secretary of labor would be Governor Allen of Kansas. He might not suit a certain radical element among labor leaders, but the mass of the people would feel that they had in him a man who is fair enough to recognize the problems of both labor and capital, and who has devised and put in-operation a constructive plan for industrial peace. Senator Harding is no doubt looking about for available men for cabinet positions; and he should not overlook
Henry J. Allen.

GOING TOO FAR

BY WALTER WELLMAN

I never cared for wines and beers—concoctions alcoholic. Sometimes I took them for a cold, or maybe for the colic—and so I saw no lizards blink:
no elephants all colored pink; no tigers round my bed would slink and grin and growl and frolic. And so, when prohibition came, to me it seemed a blessing. I went on living just the same, I do not mind confessing, and I believed it best for all to ban the use of alcohol which caused the ruin and the fall of many—that's no guessing. But now they're talking, so I hear, of not cutting out the smoking along with brandy, wine and beer, and that's no cause for joking. I smoke my pipe from morn till night, and no reformer has the right to make me give it up. I'll fight. Their attitude's provoking My pipe's my friend; it soothes and cheers when I am dull and tired. I can dispense with wines and beers, which I have ne'er desired. Why don't they place the ban on tea; prohibit skirts above the knee? I don't see why they pick on me, and habits I've acquired.

"The Master of Ballantrae"

Christian Science Monitor

"THE MASTER OF BALLANTRAE"

"The Master of Ballantrae," a dramatized version of which is now being played with signal success by Walker Whitesides in the United States, took "R. L. S." a good many years to write. "Plays are not written," said an American manager once; "they are rewritten." Stevenson's difficulty with his novel, however, was that it wouldn't "write itself." Something seemed to stick, and nothing more than the two last chapters. He got his first hint of the story in 1876, when he stayed a night in Ballantrae on a tramp through Carrick and Galloway. For years the idea lay dormant in his mind, and it was not until 1881 that the earlier portion of the story was partly conceived. Six years later he was at Saranac, in the Adirondacks, when the impulse seized him seriously to begin work on it. The unfinished manuscript was carried to Manasquan, in New Jersey; from Manasquan it crossed America, sailed with Robert Louis Stevenson to the Marquesas, through the Paumotu, then to Tahiti, and finally to Honolulu. There he took refuge in a little shanty, and tackled the two stubborn last chapters.
On or about May 20, 1889, he was able to write to his friend, Will H. Low,
"I have at last finished 'The Master.'" All this on the authority of Mrs.
Stevenson. This reminds one of a famous playwright's remark: "My play is finished; I have only to write it."

DREAMS.

I know a hill where the heather blooms,
Where the wind of Heaven blows free;
Where the sky on high is a blue, blue sky,
Which smiles on a summer sea.

I know a spot where the sunshine breaks
On a world that is half asleep;
Where the sad waves sigh as the day goes by,
And over the bright sand creep.

I know a dream which is mine all day,
And haunts me the long night through;
It is sky and sea and a wind that is free
And the sun and the heather and you.

TODAY'S TALK

By George Matthew Adams

JUST A LITTLE WHILE AGO.

Just a little while ago the Earth was very young. Great and gigantic animals of the wild, floating masses of ice and stone and metal, strange men and women as well, forests thick and big, these things were but touches of a magnificent Earth-youth—just a little while ago.

Just a little while ago we were but babies. Each one of us warmed by a mother's heart and fondled by her fingers of running love. Just a little while ago!

Just a little while ago we could hardly wait until the 3 o'clock bell, so that we could run quickly through the back lots to where the old creek held a thousand thrills, dear to every boy. And gee! the walnuts, and chestnuts, and chipmunks, and woodpeckers, and the rabbits—they all had some special interest that drew us to them—just a little while ago.

Just a little while ago we walked out of a big building, which was one of many in which we had spent four years of happiness. And we had a long roll to take home with us—which we have not looked at, lo these many years, but which represented long toil, and a little sacrifice, and lots of love mixed in. It was just a little while ago.

It is never but just a little while ago. We daily work and strive.
Life can never be figured by "letters on a dial."

Just a little while ago Summer was here in its garb of green and its myriad tints and colorings. And birds of a thousand sorts sang to us their favorite strains. But before the Summer came the Spring, and before the Spring came the Winter—each in its turn, just a little while ago!

We fought, sorrowed, loved, lost, won—just a little while ago!
In the thought of the great Gilbran, the long shadow stretching before you at sunrise shall gather under your feet at the noon hour. Yet another sunrise shall lay another shadow before you, and that also shall be gathered at another noon!

So let us treasure our yesteryears, gain from our experiences, climb over our failures, and try very hard to keep step all the way—on to the best possible end.

An Umbrella Shower
A clergyman lost his umbrella in church. As it was not returned during the week, he addressed the congregation next Sunday and told them of his loss.

"I do not expect the thief to reveal himself here," he said, "but at least he might have the decency to repent and throw the umbrella over my garden wall."

His words proved effective. That evening fifty umbrellas came over.

man. "We're pleased to take any thing out of the window at any time."

of you," as he made for the door.

Financial Facts

Do you know that the entire national debt of your government is approximately $24,000,000,000, and that approximately $10,000,000,000 of that sum represents loans to foreign governments?

That those loans are evidenced in the treasury by demand notes, bearing interest at 5 per cent, signed by the representatives of the foreign governments;

That those demand notes contain a provision as follows: "This certificate will be converted by the government of (name of the foreign government), if requested by the secretary of the treasury of the United States of America at par with an adjustment of accrued interest into an equal par amount of (rate per cent) per cent convertible gold bonds of the government of (name of foreign government)."

That in spite of that provision,
and in spite of the fact that the first loan was made on April 25, 1917, 43 months ago, no conversion
or adjustment of accrued interest has been made, although for many months the Wilson administration says it has been carrying on "discussions" with debtor countries to that end;

That, further, in spite of that provision, there is a well grounded sentiment in England that our loans abroad do not really constitute a debt at all, but should be canceled
as part of America's contribution to the cost of the war, a sentiment that is gaining strength the longer the conversion of notes into bonds is deferred;

That up to the end of the calendar year 1920 interest will have accrued on foreign loans to the amount of approximately $1,200,000,000;

That of that sum there had been paid up to March 13, 1920, according to an official report from the secretary of the treasury, the sum of $433,000,000. That probably little, if any, interest has been paid since that date, it being the announced purpose of the secretary to defer
the collection of interest during the reconstruction period of two or three years from the spring of 1919.

That pending the treasury "discussions," and during the period of deferment, the American people are being taxed the full amount of the interest which foreign governments have not paid in order to meet the payment of interest on a similar amount of Liberty bonds;

Discontent of the Prosperous

Minneapolis Journal

Could our people be brought to a realization of the differences in conditions between Europe and America, I am sure that enthusiasm, loyalty and an effort to solve our problems without strife would replace the present attitude. We are living in a gold mine, and yet we quarrel and are dissatisfied. We live on the fat of a rich land; and yet we earn our bread by loafing half the time.—Statement of E. K. Mehren, editor of Engineering News Record,
on return from Europe.

Discontent in central Europe,
where the people face starvation unless more supplies come from America, is understandable. But for those who live in a gold mine to be discontented is hard to understand.

A curious thing about discontent is that it is more often found among those who live on the fat of a rich land. More often than not, unrest arises among trained and skilled workers who already have an income above the average, rather than among the poor who are close to the line.

Social unrest is commonest where people congregate in industrial centers. Revolutionary agitation has spread from Barcelona to Buenos Aires and to Osaka in the wake of the factory. This is in part due to the fact that society is topheavy, with its large cities growing at the expense of the country. Many are unconsciously leading an unnatural life,
cut off from the wholesome influences of nature.

Man has not yet completely adapted himself to the artificial life of the large cities and the factories.
Such life often brings about the feeling that radical change is the only cure for his unnatural state.
Unrest like pessimism attends prosperity. Conditions that demand heroism and real sacrifice leave little time to complain or brood.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM

A WORD OF WARNING.

The wave of crime that is sweeping over the country is appalling.
The record of the past few months in Orange, N. J., blood-curdling, and we are no worse than the average. In several instances the criminal has narrowly escaped the mob, in which case another awful crime
would have been added to the list.

In such a state of society there is danger of falling into worse conditions, a lapsing into indifference or ease, meeting out punishment too hastily. At present we are in more danger of the latter. No doubt many an innocent person has suffered at the hands of a frenzied mob or languished within prison walls on circumstantial evidence. The recent case of Duarte should be a warning on this line. How conclusive seemed the chain of circumstantial evidence against him! It makes one shudder to think how nearly we came to imprisoning an innocent man. Thanks to our district attorney and his colleagues for taking time to investigate before turning over a supposed criminal to be sentenced under the law. And let those imbued with the mob spirit take warning lest they shed innocent blood and bring upon themselves the crime of lawlessness.

"All unrighteousness is sin" in God's sight, but that which comes within the jurisdiction of human laws springs largely from greed and sensuality. For the first there is no human remedy. The surgeon's knife cannot take out of the heart of man
the love of money, or the purpose to get it in any way that he can—except by honest toil. But for sensuality there is a remedy within our reach, and in view of the increase of crime along this line it is time we were making liberal use of it. "A hint to the wise is sufficient."

Furthermore, let all take warning that we are nearing the end of this dispensation. "In the last days grievous times shall come. For men shall be lovers of self, lovers of money . . . without self-control . . .
lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God. 1 Tim. 1:15. Instead of peace the word of God says sudden destruction. "None of the wicked shall understand," but they that are wise shall understand."

Hanging in the air.

EL CENTRO WILL VOTE ON GAS-WORKS DEAL
EL CENTRO, Nov. 30.—Voters in El Centro are shortly to have an opportunity to accept or reject the proposition of W. F. Holt of the defunct Imperial Valley Gas company, who had offered to sell the plant to the city for $30,000. His original offer was $45,000.

Members of the city council, Otto Ohmstedt, mayor, and Charles Jones, J. L. Travers, C. E. Pitzer and William Reams, in a three-hour session with Holt, reached an unanimous agreement to give the people a chance to vote on the plan. The first offer of the owner of the plant—to sell at $45,000—was rejected by all five councilmen. A second offer of Holt to sell for $40,000, to pay the expenses of the bond election, was also rejected.

Councilman Travers finally said he believed the council would be unanimous in desiring to submit the proposition to the voters if a price of $30,000 could be fixed. Holt at first held out for $35,000 but finally agreed to take $30,000, the city to pay the expenses of the election. The deal in the nature of a compromise, for Travers had wished Holt to pay the election expenses.

BEER VS. BOLSHEVISM CLASH IN BAVARIA
BERLIN, Nov. 30.—"Beer vs. Bolshevism." That is the situation in Bavaria. Just as the hard winter is setting in with a lack of fuel and a shortage of food the Bavarian government is permitting the brewing of 8 per cent beer which is the pre-war quality.

One result of this ruling is that the Bavarian burghers will be able to keep their insides warm though their exteriors may be cold. Another is that contented stomachs will make for contented minds and the discontent fostered by Bolshevik elements will wane. Some say that full strength beer will help to restore the Bavarian monarch.

Ebell Club Women Given a Treat

The Santa Ana Ebell society was the recipient yesterday of a very gracious and a very beautiful gift, in the form of a complimentary reading of "The Music Master" by Mr. Arthur Kachel, who gave the program as a courtesy to his aunt, Mrs. Ray Chandler, and to the club, of which she is a member.

Mr. Kachel is a play reader of national reputation. He has been strikingly successful in Chautauqua and Lyceum work, and he is that "rare avis"—an artist who completely justifies his press notices.

In Mr. Kachel, a pleasing and magnetic personality and a sensitive temperament are happily combined with a richly sympathetic and musically beautiful voice, which, added to a mastery gift at pantomime, makes his interpretation of the play a work of art.

Mr. Kachel's audience yesterday was an appreciative and a responsive one, and their grateful reception of his courtesy to them was his only reward, beside the pleasure that an artist must always feel in doing a beautiful thing in a beautiful way.

Many of yesterday's audience who have heard David Warfield in his interpretation of the whimsically lovable character of Von Barwig declared their complete satisfaction with Mr. Kachel's portrayal. Seldom has the Ebell society enjoyed so delightful a program.

During the business meeting that preceded the program, reports of the recent District convention at El Centro were read. Two-minute talks on various phases of the convention were given by Meses. C. F. Crose, J. E. Paul, L. W. Crozier, J. R. Medlock, A. J. Lawton, and Flora M. Pyle.

The interesting announcement was made that the 1921 district convention will be held in Santa Ana.

Mr. W. W. Crozier of Newport Beach announced that the Newport Beach Ebell will hold a bazaar and sale at Newport on December 17 and 18, and invited Santa Ana Ebell members to attend.

Twenty-four new members were admitted to membership in Ebell yesterday, which makes more than fifty new members since the opening of the club year in September, and brings the membership roll up to nearly 375.

Mrs. A. H. Lyon, the Day Nursery chairman, reported 49 children regularly enrolled during October, with many transients. Seventy-three dollars was received from the children and $72 for clothing.

PLAN TO IRRIGATE SOLANO CO. ACREAGE
DIXON, (Solano Co.), November 30.—Irrigation of 60,000 acres near Dixon extending from a point near this city to the holdings of the Holland Land company to the east, is the plan of owners of large holdings here. This is the announcement by Felix T. Swan, representative of the Oakland Securities company, which owns land embraced in the proposed project.

According to Swan, an engineering report upon the scheme already has been completed. Proposed in takes one or both of which may be used can be brought within a mile of Dixon at a cost of $1,981,700, or $33 an acre, with a maintenance charge, including interest, of about $4 an acre.

By enlarging the main ditch and increasing the size of the pumping plants and adding another lift unit, the water would be carried to the lands west of Dixon.

The proposed plan of organization is a mutual arrangement with the farmers electing their own Board of Trustees and operating system.

With the completion of the irrigation system, some of the holders of the largest areas of land in the proposed district plan to plant considerable hemp, a market for which is provided by the mill of the American-Mexican Fiber Products Company, which is now making contracts for hemp at $30 a ton.

SALE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS STARTS SOON

The sale of 1920 Christmas Seals will start in Orange county tomorrow, according to plans now being worked out by the Orange County Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

The state drive for the sale of Christmas seals began Thanksgiving day with thousands of volunteer workers representing several hundred California organizations enrolled under the banner of the double barred red cross which distinguishes the 1920 Christmas seal. The sale of these little seals will provide the sinews of the national and community war on the great white plague—tuberculosis.

Approximately 30,000,000 seals have been distributed in California and the various county associations are striving to attain a per capita sale this year of ten seals. Last year two states surpassed the 10 per capita sale, New Hampshire leading with 11.9 and Delaware second with 11.8. Among states of 2,500,000 population or more, California was second to New York, while the state finished fifth in the amount of money raised.

With California facing the gravest situation in years owing to the after effects of the influenza epidemic, a determined effort will be made by the California Tuberculosis association and its locals to raise $250,000, although the quota of the state is $225,000. Of this, 95 per cent is spent in the state, the other 5 per cent being California's contribution to administrative and other expenses to maintain the National Tuberculosis association.

With the introduction of an organized campaign to discover and cure tuberculosis and the dissemination of preventative measures, the death rate from tuberculosis has been rapidly lowered in the past ten years. The success of the movement is attributed to the interest in the anti-tuberculosis work created by a small investment in seals and the accompanying spread of knowledge of the causes and preventatives of the disease.

CABLE DISPUTE WILL COME BEFORE SENATE
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The whole question of cable landings in the United States, including the present controversy between the Western Union Telegraph company and the State Department, is to be investigated by a Senate committee, it was announced by Senator Kellogg, Republican, Minnesota.

Senator Kellogg said the inquiry would be held in connection with his pending bill proposing to empower State Department to regulate cable connections in this country. He added that he already had requested Newcomb Carlton, president of the Western Union and other cable companies to have representatives at the hearing. State Department officers also will be invited to attend.

BEGIN ARGUMENTS IN SCIENCE CHURCH CASE

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—Arguments in the Christian Science cases, which involve the question of international control of the entire church organization was begun today before five justices of the Supreme Court—the full bench.

Some thirty attorneys were present to represent the various interests in the five actions that had been grouped for argument, including Former Justice Charles E. Hughes of the United States Supreme Court; John L. Bates, former Governor of Massachusetts and Sherman L. Whipple, Attorney-General of New York.

Only 125 spectators could be accommodated. The early comers waited patiently in the cold, some from 4 a. m. until the doors were opened. Several spectators had come as far as London and Los Angeles.

Former Governor Bates proceeded with his argument in behalf of the directors of the church as opposed to the trustees.

At the conclusion of Bates' argument, Wm. G. Thompson began the summing up for John V. Dillmore, a former member of the board of directors who is seeking annulment of his removal by other members of the board.

HOW TO BATTLE BIG GASSER IS NOW PUZZLE

The big gasser at Huntington Beach was quiet today, but officials of the company were taking no chances.

The terrific gas pressure yesterday blew out a hole large enough to allow the derrick and the housing, about 24 by 35 feet, to settle to a depth of more than 60 feet. The earth in the vicinity of the well is loosened from the effect of the gas pressure and salvage work is difficult and dangerous.

Officials of the company were puzzled today to know what course to follow in the future. They had not been able to decide whether it would pay to attempt to "tame" the well or if it would not be safer and more economical to abandon the hole.

The gas pressure today was not sufficient to blow the dirt and the derrick out of the hole, but in the case of moving the derrick and an attempt to make a new hole in the same place, officials were afraid that the gas pressure would still be sufficient to make work almost impossible.

Recall Del Liano Fight

The manner in which the new gasser is defying the Amalgamated Oil company has reminded some of the old oil men of the battle which was fought several years ago to "tame" the Del Liano No. 4 in the Tampico field. This was considered one of the greatest wells in the world.

During the afternoon, yesterday, gas bubbled up through cracks in the earth within a radius of fifty feet of the hole, which was largely stopped up with debris weighted down by the derrick. Spurts of dust were forced up in a road more than fifty feet from the hole, by escaping gas which had forced a vent in that direction.

Officials of the company estimated that the loss due to the upheaval would approximate $20,000. If further complications develop a greater loss may result. Officials admitted that almost anything might be looked for from the well.

CALIFORNIA INDIANS PLAN BIG POW WOW

DEL MONTE, Calif., Nov. 30.—High Chief Henry Garrison, of Modesto, has called a meeting of the California Indians at the Plaza Hotel, in San Francisco, on Saturday, December 4, at 8 p. m.

The California Indians at this meeting will determine on the date and plans for their annual Pow Wow of sports at Del Monte.

The California Indians is an association of sportsmen who banded together two years ago for the purpose of celebrating at a week's Pow Wow every year. It is an amateur organization with a membership that represents a total of two hundred sportsmen from all sections of the coast.

During the Pow Wow there will be a registered trap shooting tournament, a golf tournament, swimming, tennis and fishing competitions.

The officers and directors of the California Indians are as follows: Henry Garrison, high chief, Modesto.

L. W. Mellus, vice-president, Los Angeles.

D. C. Davidson, vice-president, Modesto.

San Jose: Paul M. Burns, San Francisco; Earl Burnham, Los Angeles; J. W. Kinneer, Stockton; C. W. Berry, Visalia; Ed Garrett, Alameda.

USES CHICKENS TO WORK ORANGE RANCH

PASADENA, Nov. 30.—W. J. Little of this city has devised a scheme that not only doubled his profits, but has lessened his work in caring for his orange trees. He has hit upon the idea of combining an orange ranch with a chicken ranch.

By scattering grain between two rows of orange trees he gets his land worked by the chickens scratching for the grain. Starting at one side of the field, he scatters grain between two rows each day and when the other side is reached he recovers the territory in the same manner.

Dust kicked up by the chickens in the summer time is a cure for scales on orange trees, Little added.

For his ranch of three acres, Little has 1500 chickens which he claims is the right proportion.

Think of "EXCELSIOR" when you want milk, cream and ice cream.

EX-SOLDIER ADMITS KILLING WAR BRIDE

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 30.—"I don't care if they hang me tomorrow, I did what was right," the police said Thomas Lotiszo declared when arrested early this morning on a charge of murdering his wife an hour earlier.

"I was trying to make a good woman of her," Lotiszo added.

The woman, aged 38, was shot and mortally wounded on a downtown street corner. John Granelli, the only witness to the shooting, saw from a distance of a block away, a man attack the woman, knock her to the sidewalk, shoot her four times and flee.

Granelli said when he reached her side she was able to gasp her name and address and say that her husband shot her. She died soon after at the hospital. Lotiszo was arrested at his home.

Lotiszo told the police he met his wife while in Liverpool as an American soldier during the war and brought her to this country when hostilities ended.

LEGION HAS MONEY FOR NEW CLUBHOUSE

VENICE, Nov. 30.—Bay District Post of the American Legion will be able to erect at least a part of their clubhouse from the money which they received from the sale of an automobile. The car is now the property of C. A. Dunivant, 713 1/2 Trolleyway, Venice.

It was estimated by members of the Legion that approximately $3000 is now on hand for the erection of the clubhouse, the situation for which has not been determined.

KANSAS CITY MAN TO PREACH AT RIVERSIDE

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 30.—Rev. Ira W. Barnett, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, of Kansas City, has accepted the call of the Calvary Presbyterian church of this city, and will come as the successor of Dr. William Armstrong Hunter soon after the close of the new year.

Rev. Mr. Barnett sent a telegram of acceptance, the message reaching Riverside this morning. His acceptance, the telegram says, is contingent on his being released by the Kansas City Presbytery. This, however, is only a matter of official action on the part of that body.

Rev. Mr. Barnett came to Riverside at the invitation of the church officials and occupied the pulpit two Sundays. So favorably impressed were the members of the congregation who heard him that they insisted on the church officials taking action to secure Rev. Mr. Barnett.

The committee, after getting in touch with some of the prominent pastors of the church on the coast and in Kansas City, were unanimous for calling him, and a congregational meeting was held last Tuesday evening.

At this meeting the report of the committee was read and by a unanimous vote of the congregation it was decided to call Rev. Mr. Barnett.

He is a young man with about 12 years' experience, and is regarded as a remarkable preacher and a successful pastor. He has a wife and one child.

RUBBER STAMP TO END SOME ARMY RED TAPE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The rubber stamp is to be used in the army to cut out the red tape or some of it, according to a statement from the adjutant general's office of the War Department.

"Based on a case," says the statement, "where a soldier requests discharge because of dependent relatives, under the old method, twenty sheets of paper are required; by the new regulations only five sheets. Ten indorsements are now necessary, while five will suffice, three of them made with rubber stamp. Fifteen separate typing operations are now needed, while but three will be used hereafter. Four synopses of communications are completely abolished.

Doughty's attorneys obtained a week's delay for pleading. Nothing has been added to Doughty's statement that he knew nothing of Small's whereabouts since the millionaire disappeared while in his company at a theater.

On arrival here Doughty accompanied the police to the home of his sister, Mrs. Thomas Lovatt, and delivered to them from their hiding place the $105,000 in bonds.

WASHINGTON SERVICE MEN WILL GET BONUS

OLYMPIA, Wash., Nov. 30.—Referendum measure No. 2, known as the soldiers' bonus bill, which provides for the payment of a bonus to former service men of the State of Washington of $15 for each month that they were in the Federal service during the World War, was proclaimed a law today by Governor Hart. The bill was carried in the recent election by a vote of 224,355 to 88,128.

REALTY MEN OF L. A. TO SPEAK AT MEETING

With a view to arousing interest in the state convention of realty men to be held in Los Angeles, December 9 to 11, a number of members of the realty board of that city will attend a meeting of the Santa Ana Realty Board scheduled for tomorrow night at 7:30 at James's, it was announced today by J. C. Wallace, secretary of the local board.

Notification that the Los Angeles realty men intended to be present at the meeting was received by Wallace today.

One of the main objects of the state convention in Los Angeles will be to foster the movement for uniform real estate laws throughout the United States. It is expected that in informal talks tomorrow evening the Los Angeles men will enlarge upon the details of this movement.

The Santa Ana Realty Board, which now has sixty-five members, including those in Santa Ana and from Tustin, Newport, Laguna beach and Costa Mesa, plans to attend the Los Angeles convention in a body, according to Wallace.

WILL DEMAND TRIAL OF RAISIN COMPANY

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—The California Associated Raisin company's motion to dismiss the government's suit, charging the company with violating the Sherman anti-trust law, will be denied by Federal Judge Bledsoe and the case will be tried on its merits.

This was disclosed today when a letter written yesterday by the judge to United States District Attorney O'Connor was made public.

The action will be taken in spite of a stipulation signed by the representatives of the government and the raisin company in San Francisco a few months ago by which officers of the Fresno corporation agreed to reform certain practices regarded as arbitrary to law.

An amended bill of complaint will be filed within a few days at the direction of the attorney general, it is said, and the company's motion to dismiss will be denied. The case will be heard either here or in Fresno and will be a lengthy one, it is believed, as the presence of many witnesses and the introduction of many documents will be necessary.

Judge Bledsoe, in his letter, specifies points in which he thinks the present complaint is faulty.

The letter concludes: "I think with respect to their practices in interstate commerce, the defendants should be tried now, not for the things that they have done in the past and thereafter discontinued, but for the things that they are now engaged in doing, or threatening."

CLAIMS DANCE HALLS ARE MENACE TO GIRLS

DETROIT, Nov. 30.—Suggesting a minimum age law for girls attending Detroit dance halls, Miss Virginia Mae Murray, head of the Travelers' Aid society, New York city, told Police Commissioner Inches these establishments were a menace to the morals of the city.

The report to the commissioner was the result of visits to dance halls made by Miss Murray, Miss Josephine Davis, Detroit policewoman, and a patrolman.

Miss Murray said mere children were found dancing with men whom they did not know. Others were found waiting outside for men to "pick them up" and pay their way in.

Commissioner Inches said that at present there practically is no police supervision of dance halls.

HARDING MAJORITY IN STATE 395,801

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 30.—Senator Warren G. Harding carried California for President over Gov. James M. Cox by a vote of 395,801 to 200,000, official totals announced by Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan.

The Socialist vote was 64,706 and the Prohibition vote 25,204.

The Socialist vote shows a big increase over the 1916 figures of 42,898. The Prohibitionists cast 27,713 votes in 1916.

The Republican electors will meet in Sacramento the second Monday in January to cast their votes for Harding and to designate a man to deliver the vote to Washington.

NO CINCH FOR U. S. TENNIS TEAM

Everything is not so bright and rosy for the United States Davis cup players, William T. Tilden, Watson Washburn, Samuel Hardy and William M. Johnston. It looked easy at first in their journey to Australia for the tennis honors. But R. Norris Williams, handiest server of all, announced he couldn't go because of business affairs, and Tilden joined the group after suffering a nervous breakdown. The American team's battle for the prize, however, is expected to be fast and furious.

BIDS OPENED ON EQUIPMENT FOR S. A. STREETS

Opening of bids for street equipment and paving in front of certain school properties in the city formed the chief item of business coming before the city council at its adjourned session last night.

The new license ordinance, which was expected to be the feature of the evening, was not presented, as it could not be whipped into shape for final reading and passage last night. When the council adjourned, it was to meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock for the second reading, and adoption of the ordinance.

The committee responsible for the new schedules has worked long and hard in establishing fees and designating lines of business that should be subject to license taxes, and it was expected that it would be presented last night. Changes necessary and conclusions on certain points required more time than was anticipated.

Charles Kendall, Herbert Rankin, Hubert H. Dale and Charles H. Chapman compose the committee. Bids submitted for the various items of street equipment and for paving were taken under advisement. They were as follows:

Firms Put in Bids
Street sweeper — Elgin Street Sweeper Co., Elgin, Ill., Elgin Motor sweeper, with attachments, $7,500; Austin Western Machinery Co., Chicago, Ill., Austin motor sweeper, $9,000, less 2 per cent for cash in thirty days, or $7,500 for a sweeper in storage in San Francisco, which has been used for demonstrating purposes. The prices are f. o. b., Santa Ana.
Scarifier — Ventura Manufacturing Co., 5-point, $615; Good Roads Machinery Co., 5-point, $775, or 9-point, $850.
Disc — Good Roads Machinery Co., $975.
Paving in front of High School — S. S. Finley, 18 cents per square foot for four-inch concrete base and 8 cents for one and one-half inch asphalt surface; E. L. Garretson, 27 cents for base only; Orange County Engineering and Construction company, 25.32 cents for base only.
Roosevelt school — S. S. Finley, 18 cents for base and 7 cents for surface; Orange County Engineering and Construction company, 24.82 cents for base only; E. L. Garretson, 27 cents for base only; Wells and Bressler, 15 cents, base only.
Jefferson school, Durant street, four-inch concrete with steel trowel finish — Wells and Bressler, 18 1/2 cents; Orange County Engineering and Construction Co., 20.3 cents; E. L. Garretson, 27 cents.

Wakeham Street Opening
Declaring that the owners of the majority of the frontage on what will be Wakeham street—when it is opened through the new subdivision he is to put on the market—favor extension of that street to Chestnut, Kenneth Van Slyck asked the board to take some action looking to the opening of the street to Chestnut.
Frank Wakeham, who owns acreage on the proposed street, thought that if the street were to go through to Chestnut, it could be put through at less expense now than in later years.

J. W. McNeill, 322 East Chestnut, said that he thought the opening unnecessary and decidedly unfair. Should the street be put through most of his frontage on Chestnut would be required and his house would have to be moved, he said. The council will view the location of the proposed street as a committee of the whole and report at the next meeting.

Council Notes
A petition for paving Durant street from Washington to Fifteenth was referred to the city engineer to be checked up. J. R. Mayer asked that the contractor who is awarded the contract for paving in front of Jefferson school be given permission to circulate a contract on the two blocks.

The application of Orrie Monerey for permission to operate a flower stand on the sidewalk in front of Sam Hill's market was denied.

The application of W. B. Alexander for permission to install a 200 gallon gasoline tank at 821 West Fifth was referred to Greenleaf and Dale.

S. S. Finley was given permission to close Orange avenue from Bishop to McFadden for the purpose of paving.

Petition of property owners asking that Central avenue, from Grand avenue east to the city limits, and Eastside street, from Fourth to Fruit be reduced from eighty-foot to fifty-foot streets, was referred to the council as a committee of the whole, and the city engineer.

With property owners on West Sixth street protesting against the establishment of a public garage at 1024 West Sixth, the council denied a request for permission to erect a building for the garage.

An ordinance abandoning all proceedings for the opening of Cubbon street east from Main to the Pacific Electric tracks was adopted.
Resolution 688, re-establishing the grades on South Van Ness and South Parton, was passed.

CALIFORNIA STUDENTS MAY WITNESS BIG GAME

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20.—Plans to have 2,000 University of California undergraduates go to Pasadena New Year's day to cheer their football team on to victory in the contest against the Ohio State eleven were announced last night at a banquet of the Tournament of Roses.

In addition to the students thousands of alumni will attend, it was stated, and an attempt is being made to have the undergraduates and the alumni seated in one great rosters' section at the Tournament Park during the big East-West battle.

1100 CARLOADS WILL BE SHIPPED NEXT YEAR BY FRUIT ASSOCIATION

Not less than 1100 carloads of oranges will be shipped during the coming year, according to estimates which were today in the hands of the Placencia Orange Growers' association. The estimates were made at the organization's annual meeting, when officers were elected.

Directors and officers elected by the association, which has houses at Placencia and Fullerton, are S. W. McCulloch, president; L. Jacobsen, vice-president; William Berkenstock, treasurer; George Welton, S. S. Twombly, E. D. Lange and W. J. Travis.

GAS ADMINISTRATOR TO BE NAMED TODAY

Declaring that there is a gas shortage in Southern California and that the situation might become serious during the winter if the supply is not carefully supervised, the Railroad Commission has decided to place the distribution of gas in the hands of a gas administrator. Along with an order issued for placing distribution under the supervision of the administrator, the commission announced the granting of the application of the gas companies to increase in the rate to commercial users.

The new rates are effective at once all over Southern California and it was expected that the administrator would be named by the commission today. It was believed that H. L. Masser, gas expert with the commission, would be given the appointment. The administrator will have his office in the commission's headquarters in Los Angeles.

Under the order the rates to concerns using gas for commercial purposes are increased from 30 cents to 40 cents per 1000 cubic feet in some instances and in others to 50 cents per 1000.

The ruling says that "general users of gas for commercial purposes will be charged a minimum of $10 a month per meter. The rate is 50 cents per 1000 cubic feet. Certain concerns, which include glass factories, meat works and institutions using gas in the preparation of foods classed as 'special industries,' will be charged a minimum of $15 a meter per month and 40 cents per 1000 cubic feet for all gas actually consumed."

The administrator will supervise the distribution of gas made by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric company, the Southern California Gas company and the Southern Counties Gas company. He will proceed on the basis that gas for domestic purposes must be furnished first, even if all commercial users are cut off. After home needs have been amply cared for, commercial users in the "special class" will be protected, and after them the "general consumers."

All contracts signed by the companies with commercial users must first be approved by the administrator, and will be subject to curtailment without notice upon order of the Railroad commission's representative.

OHIO GRID MENTOR PRAISES COAST 11'S

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—"Ohio State is not going to California to win or to lose. We are going out to play the best football we know how and we will accept the result."

With this statement, "Jack" Wilce coach of the western conference champions, refused here today to pick the winner of the Ohio-California game scheduled for Pasadena on New Year's day. "I know something about coast football," he said. "I saw Oregon defeated by Harvard last year. The coast teams play a hard, smashing offensive game and they are hard, sure tacklers."

"On the other hand, I hear that the coast regards Ohio State as an exclusively open playing team with nothing but the ultra-forward pass. Well, about that, some surprises may be forthcoming."

While on his eastern trip Wilce saw the Penn State-Pittsburgh and the Army-Navy games. Commenting upon the relative quality of eastern and western football, he said:

"Both sections have a lot to learn from each other. The east, from my observation, can teach the west some lessons in line play. The eastern teams have offensive line play better developed. They resort almost entirely to blocking and they are better at it perhaps, not that they know more about it, but they have bigger men to do it."

"The west, however, is far superior in forward pass and offensive backfield work."

UNEMPLOYMENT GAINING IN MID-WEST

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Unemployment has increased steadily in the mid-west during the past month, while the volume of business has declined, the seventh district federal reserve bank of Chicago reported today in a survey of conditions in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Missouri and portions of Kansas and Nebraska.

While men are more plentiful than jobs, the report stated that the amount of idleness is no greater at the present time than at this period in the winter of 1914.

Discussing business conditions in the seventh district's territory, the survey declared "uncertainty almost completely dominates business calculations." Distinctly uneven declines in individual prices are factors in retarding business activities.

The recession in prices which has "already manifested itself in foodstuffs and textiles, is reported extending to other commodities heretofore unaffected," the survey found, "but there are industries which have experienced little, if any readjustments."

In nearly every section, stores are attempting to liquidate their stock through special sales and their buying is from "hand to mouth."

Cancellation of orders has been large in all lines of merchandise. Manufacturers report liquidation of debts as "very slow."

Mail order houses business shows considerable decrease. Farmers are withholding their grains from the market, due to the readjustment of market values. Forty per cent of last year's wheat crop is still in the farmers' hands, the report says.

RY. BOARD DENIES SUGAR RATE PLEA

A petition to the railroad commission filed by the Smart and Final Wholesale company of this city and Wilmington, asking for restoration of transportation charges by water on sugar from San Francisco to Los Angeles, prevailing prior to last November has been denied by the commission.

At the hearing the company showed that a dockage charge of approximately 3 cents per 100 pounds is being made at Wilmington that does not prevail at San Francisco, San Diego or other ports of any consequence.

The water rate on sugar from San Francisco to Los Angeles is 29 1/2 cents per 100 pounds and to Wilmington 28 cents, both rates including wharfing charges. According to a statement today by J. S. Smart, the Los Angeles rate is for sugar delivered on the side track at warehouses while the rate to Wilmington is to the dock. By the time the sugar is stored in the warehouse at Wilmington the cost per 100 pounds to Smart and Final for the product delivered in the warehouse is nearly equal to the rate wholesalers pay for delivery at the doors of their warehouses in Los Angeles.

FAMOUS INDIAN AGENT IS DEAD AT ONTARIO

Leroy S. Dyer, one of the early pioneers of the Pacific coast, died Thanksgiving Day in Ontario at the age of 87 years. Since 1882 this pioneer had lived in Ontario and was well known to many Orange county people.

In 1864 he was appointed postmaster at Salem, Oregon, but in 1871 he entered the employment of the government as mechanic and agricultural instructor for the Yakima Indian reservation.

In the spring of 1872 he was appointed agent of the Klamath reservation, located at Klamath Lake, Oregon. It was while agent of this reservation that he came in contact with the famous Modoc chief, Captain Jack, who was at war with the government troops among the famous lava beds.

His work among the Modoc Indians soon won their friendship and prevented any others from joining the famous outlaw chief. He was one of the peace commission, which was to treat with the rebellious Modocs for a return to their reservations.

The commission was composed of General Canby, Dr. Thomas, Colonel Meacham and Dyer, and the history of the massacre of General Canby and Dr. Thomas and the miraculous escape of Mr. Dyer and Colonel Meacham is an oft-told chapter in the history of the Indian wars.

Before the meeting of the Indian chiefs with the commission, Mr. Dyer warned the others of the commission against uselessly exposing their lives to the murderous savage. He warned them that they were on the road to certain death, but agreed to accompany them.

Before the meeting was many minutes older, Dyer noticed that something was wrong and saw conclusive evidence that the chiefs planned for a massacre. He offered some excuse to absent himself from the circle and never returned to the place reserved for him. Instead, he ran to the fort where the U. S. troops were stationed and reported the massacre.

General Canby and Dr. Thomas were killed and Colonel Meacham badly wounded. Mr. Dyer was fired upon but escaped being even wounded.

During his life in Ontario he was prominent in the affairs of the colony and he planted the first orchard in Ontario. He was a thorough and practical horticulturist. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and an Odd Fellow. In the latter he was a charter member of Olive Lodge No. 18 of Salem, Oregon, and a past grand of that lodge.

HOW AS HEARING IN BANKRUPTCY IS HELD HERE

A hearing to determine the liabilities and assets of Austin Reed House of Santa Ana who recently filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, was held before Attorney B. E. Tarver, referee in bankruptcy for Orange county.

When he filed his application, House, who is said to be an agent of the Lima Bean association, gave as his liabilities a note for $1170 to T. F. Wilson of Los Angeles, and another note for $126.50 to the Hellman Trust & Savings Bank of Blythe, Cal. He said that he had no assets except $100 worth of personal clothing, which is exempt. H. H. Moye was appointed by Referee Tarver as trustee for House.

A stormy hearing took place yesterday afternoon when Wilson, who holds the note for $1170, claimed that House owns an automobile which he is driving, and for which he is said to have paid $1850 about a year ago. House denied that he owned the automobile, although the purchase contract was taken out, and the deposits paid in, in his name.

He stated that he had purchased the machine for Mrs. Jeanette King, and was merely renting it from her. Some property at Tenth and Sycamore is also involved in the dispute, the creditors claiming that this is owned either in whole or in part by House. House claims that it belongs to Mrs. King. Mrs. King testified that she paid $600 on it by check, and gave House the rest of the money with which to make the payments on cash.

At the close of the hearing Referee Tarver announced that he would render a decision in regard to the contested matters on December 7. House is said to have been a resident of Santa Ana for about a year. He said that his profession was that of an inspector of lima beans.

DR. INFROIT, FAMOUS X-RAY EXPERT, DEAD

PARIS, Nov. 30.—Dr. Charles Infroit, famous X-ray specialist, is dead, according to announcement. One of Dr. Infroit's hands became infected in 1908 as a result of his constant use of the X-ray, and an operation was performed. Since that time he has undergone twenty-four operations. His announcement in 1915 in the Academy of Medicine of Paris that he had extracted a shrapnel bullet from the heart of a soldier was read with interest throughout the world.

LINK BOOZE SLEUTH WITH MURDER GANG

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—Authorities today were investigating a theory that Jose Ripala, secret investigator and who was reported to have been slain by a gang of bootleggers in the hills near Newhall Saturday, was killed because he "knew too much" concerning the murder of Policeman James W. Horton of San Francisco.

Ripala, according to information here, was a member of the band which killed Horton in San Francisco on September 19. He was the only one to be arrested, it is said, and was given his freedom after he had divulged the names of the others and promised to aid in their capture.

He found them Saturday, it is reported and related to them a story of how he had escaped from San Francisco police.

The two former companions of Ripala, however, are believed to have saved that he had betrayed them, and to seal his lips and in revenge for what he had already done, they murdered him, the police say.

LOCKS MOTHER UP ALL DAY, SAY WITNESSES

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—Mrs. Vida Dando, has been in the habit of locking her aged and crippled mother in a room and leaving her there all day while on shopping trips, witnesses testified before Police Judge Frederickson. Mrs. Dando was arrested a week ago for disturbing the peace. Judge Frederickson continued the case until next Wednesday, when the mother, Mrs. Julia Lye, 70 years old, will testify.

Policewoman Vaughan testified that she had found the old woman, who cannot walk without the aid of crutches, locked up in a room without anything to eat. Mrs. Dando was first charged with swearing at her mother. Investigation revealed her custom of locking her mother in the room. She denied that she left her mother without food.

"A cockney cook," he said, "came over and settled in America. Her mistress, who was a widow, told her one day how she came to lose her husband."

'COUNT' ACCUSED IN BEACH OIL LAND DEAL RELEASED ON BONDS

"Count" Albert Sichofsky, charged with embezzling $7500 from two Los Angeles physicians in connection with oil leases at Huntington Beach, was at liberty today, following the filing of $10,000 bonds with Judge Grant Jackson in Los Angeles.

The physicians, the self-styled Polish count is charged with swindling are O. M. Justice and S. Levin. The "Count's" bank account was attached in connection with the filing of his bond.

MAN CLEARS SELF IN ACCIDENT CASE

Percy Granger Smith, San Diego Bible salesman, who was arrested on November 20 on a charge of reckless and careless driving following an accident on North Main street when he hit and injured A. Rodriguez, a Mexican workman, was found not guilty today, following his trial before Justice John B. Cox.

The complaint charged Smith with having been negligent in passing a truck which was unloading gravel on the P. E. tracks. Smith testified that the gang of Mexican workers unloading the gravel got out of the way with the exception of Rodriguez, who seemed not to hear, and by the time he saw Rodriguez was not going to move it was too late to avoid the accident.

Smith testified that he blew his horn, and charged negligence to the foreman of the gang, who was standing back of the truck supposedly to give a warning signal to motorists. Smith affirmed that he was going slowly, and the testimony of other witnesses seemed to bear out this contention. He stated that he stopped within ten feet after he had struck Rodriguez.

Following the accident, Smith took Rodriguez to the Community hospital, and then gave himself up to the sheriff. He had been at liberty on $200 bail. Smith pleaded his own case. The state was represented by Deputy District Attorney W. F. Menton.

FRESNO RAISIN CROP BRINGS $50,000,000

FRESNO, Nov. 30.—The 1919 raisin crop of the San Joaquin valley was sold for approximately $50,000,000 and comprised 182,591 tons, the California Associated Raisin company handling 159,260 tons at a sales return of $43,280,254.41, according to its annual report. The net return to the raisin company growers was $36,345,977.44; overhead, packing and sales cost, $6,365,984.30.

According to President Wylie M. Giffen of the Association, the organization handled 59,770 tons when it was organized in 1913, as against 6230 handled by independents. The total of the sales of that year was $6,452,897.

The 1919 crop shows a percentage gain of 166 per cent in tonnage handled and 571 in return.

SPEEDING AUTOISTS TO SERVE IN JAIL

FRESNO, Nov. 30.—A plan by which each auto driver who is arrested here for speeding will be given a jail sentence of from twenty-four hours to one week, has received the unanimous approval of the local police and fire commissioners. Although only a discussion of the plan has taken place, it is believed that within a few days judges of this city will be prevailed upon to impose jail sentences in all "speed" cases. That more serious punishment than the levying of fines should be dealt speeders, who are without regard for innocent pedestrians and law-abiding motorists, is the opinion of Chief of Police Traux, as well as the police commissioners. During the past month 173 motorists were arrested in Fresno for driving faster than permitted by law.

HE'D AID "CHIEF"

CHIEF L.O. FIELDING

WASHINGTON—With a bundle of the herbs he says will make a head good tea and bring the Great Paleface Chief, President Wilson, back to health, Chief Lemuel Ocum Fielding, last chief of the Mohicans, who once ruled all the New England Indians, is here to see President Wilson. Incidentally, Chief Fielding wants to plead for a slice of Norwich, Conn., business district worth $2,000,000, he says belongs to the remnant of his tribe.

LIQUOR SUSPECT IS GIVEN TERM IN JAIL

Juan Hernandez, of 1243 West First street, who was arrested yesterday on charges of battery and disturbing the peace, and in whose house there was alleged to have been found a large still, appeared in police court today and pleaded guilty to the battery charge.

The charge resulted from a beating which Hernandez was alleged to have given his wife. Up to the time he appeared in court he had denied any knowledge of such a seizure with his wife. After he had pleaded guilty he was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail.

City Marshal Sam Jernigan was today in communication with the federal authorities in Los Angeles with a view to having federal charges placed against Hernandez as an alleged bootlegger.

Local police were of the opinion that Hernandez pleaded guilty to the battery charge in hope that the bootlegging charge would be dismissed, once he was in jail. To use popular parlance, however, Hernandez may "have another think coming."

SETTLES LAW CASE BY FLIPPING COIN

AKRON, Ohio, Nov. 30.—By flipping a penny Common Pleas Judge W. J. Ahern broke a deadlock in connection with the settlement of a law suit.

Attorneys in the case declared the court's unusual procedure was a just one.

It was a damage suit. The claim was for $150. Judge Ahern advised the plaintiff and defendant to settle. Although the defendant agreed to pay $50, the plaintiff held out for $60.

When he found neither side would budge Judge Ahern informed the litigants of his plan for disposing of the controversy. Plaintiff and defendant agreed.

Taking a cent out of his pocket, Judge Ahern said: "Heads, you (the defendant) pay $50 and tails you (the plaintiff) take $50."

The flipped coin fell upon a table heads up.

The defendant paid $50 and the court marked the case "settled."

SELF-STYLED HERO'S STORY MYTH, REPORT, JAILED FOR ROBBERY

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, Nov. 30.—Dirty and unkempt, with his natty uniform soiled and torn "Captain" Keith Collins, self styled "war hero" came back to his home town last night in chains.

Collins, whose self-made record was shattered by official army records showed him to be a private who never left the country, was bound over to the federal grand jury by United States Commissioner Byers on a charge of helping to rob a Burlington mail train here on November 11 of about $5,000,000. His bonds were fixed at $50,000.

Federal officials refused to say whether any of the more than $3,000,000 in bonds and currency which is said to have been Collins' share of the plunder, has been recovered.

SEEK LOOT HIDDEN BY MAIL CAR BANDIT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 30.—Two federal operatives today left for Omaha in an attempt to locate $23,000 in money Keith Collins was said to have confessed concealing there. According to the latest version of Collins' confession of his part in the big Council Bluffs mail robbery, he claims to have burned the bonds but has the cash.

PORCH DAMAGED AS TRASH TAKES FIRE

Slight damage was done by a fire in the rear screen porch of the home of E. A. Baird, 225 South Birch street, at 11:30 a. m. today.

A call to the fire department resulted in a quick trip being made by a fire truck to the scene. It was found that the fire had been put out with a bucket of water.

The fire is believed to have started from a paper carton which was used as a receptacle for trash. Earlier in the morning Mrs. Baird had emptied the trash on a small fire and it is thought that a spark must have lodged in the carton at that time.

The paint on the porch was badly scorched and it will be necessary to replace the baseboard and the moulding in the porch.

LARGE AMOUNT ASKED TO ADVERTISE PARKS

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 30.—Congress was asked to appropriate not less than $2,473,594 for development and advertising of national parks in the United States, in a resolution adopted at a convention of the American Travel Development Association here.

This would encourage travel, the resolution stated. The resolution was introduced by Ebert Cuthbert of Seattle, Wash.

RICH MOTHER LOSES BATTLE FOR INFANT

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 30.—The last resource upon which Mrs. Frederick Matters of Chicago pinned her hope of regaining possession of "Baby Irene," claimed by two mothers, was exhausted here when the appellate division of the supreme court upheld a decision of the lower court awarding the child to Margaret Ryan of Ottawa.

By the same process of law the child was excluded from falling heir to over $300,000, which would have been hers as daughter of the rich American.

Ever since the two women, Mrs. Matters and Margaret Ryan, were inmates of Misericordia hospital, the fight over "Baby Irene" has raged in the courts. Both had become mothers, but only one child had lived.

Months of litigation, with both women claiming the living child, resulted in the decision of Justice Lennox last December that a substitution had taken place and that Margaret Ryan was really the mother of the infant girl.

American energy seems to make short work of wars and leagues and things like that.

Stores Better Prepared to Than Ever to Meet Demands of Customers

VAST ARRAY OF GOODS

Tempting Displays of Gift Articles Being Shown
by Merchants

Christmas shopping has begun.

Christmas goods are on display,

people are beginning to buy.

And the best thing about this

Christmas season, so far as the shopper is concerned, is that Santa Ana stores are better prepared this year to meet the demands of Orange county people than they have been in any previous season.

Santa Ana stocks were never better. There is more of variety, from the little things to the big things that go to make up Christmas cheer,

than there was last year or the year

previous.

There is reason for it, too. During the war there were trade restrictions that prevented stores from obtaining the stocks they wanted.

Following the war, many orders for Christmas goods were not filled.

This year, ample orders to meet the needs of all of the patrons of Santa Ana stores were placed, and have been filled at prices that enable Santa Ana merchants to meet

big city competition.

According to merchants interviewed today, there are two classes of purchases that are leading in the buying right now. One class comprises purchases that are being made for early mailing to Eastern points.

The other class includes purchases

by women and girls who are doing their Christmas sewing and knitting

now.

Appeal by Overshiner

Postmaster Overshiner has just isssued an appeal to patrons of his office to mail their Christmas packages early. The postmaster points out that packages mailed now are sure to reach their destinations before Christmas. Packages that are not mailed until the big Christmas

rush is on may be delayed in transit.

The fact that Christmas buying has begun is evidenced at the Santa

Ana postoffice, for ever Eastern mail is carrying Christmas cheer

from Santa Ana people to people in far countries or back East. Most of these packages bear these words:

"Not to be opened until Christmas."

An endless array of Christmas gifts is on display in Santa Ana.

The neckties, gloves, fancy suspenders, belts and other articles that are most frequently bought for men have been arranged in practically all of the men's clothing stores.

Displays showing articles suitable for purchase for women are found in the dry goods stores. Drug stores are dressing their windows

Big Year for Dolls

This is to be Santa Ana's biggest Christmas for little girls.

No one can doubt it who goes along Fourth street and sees the little faces pressed against windows

that have displays of dolls.

There are more dolls and prettier dolls in Santa Ana stores now than in any previous years.

Toys, puzzles, books, foot-balls, bicycles, punching bags—Santa Ana's stores have enough con-

RED UNMENTIONABLES OF EARLY DAYS GIVE WAY TO NEW STYLES

SEATTLE, Nov. 30.—What has become of the old red flannel shirts and trousers?

A local writer, in search of the elusive red flannel made a sweeping investigation of this city stores

in pursuit of the "reds." Not a trace of the bolshievik garments could he find.

With the advent of frosty weather,

a large portion of this city population is turning toward heavies but wonder shrouds the disappearance of the garments that made America famous.

One well known dealer here attributed the loss of the blatt reds to the fact that the fancy brands of under-garments enticingly advertised in all the leading magazines now claim

the fidelity of the elite and the not-so-elite. Only on the water front is there any sale for the warm tick-lers.

"No, we don't handle them," one of the exclusive stores replied. "We haven't carried them in stock for years. Our best people no longer wear them. Debutantes shun them,

if you want a suit try an antique store," was the arrogant rejoinder of one of the dealers.

Even the big Alaskan outfitting stores no longer carry the scarlet "unmentionables." The old-timer who used to sit and argue by the hour

that the red flannels were far warmer and richer in color degrees

than those of any other shade has gone the way of the Dodo and Dinosaur, and the superstition that red

is a good preventative for rheumatism has long since been rejected.

Nowadays the "sourdough" wants something snappy in old rose or phosphorescent purple.

METHODIST PREACHER
IN HEMET, NOT HEAVEN

Dr. Walter C. Buckner, pastor of the First Methodist church of Pomona, wishes to state that he has not died and gone to Heaven, says

the Ontario Report. A little misunderstanding in a recent telephone conversation caused it to be noised around that the worthy divine had departed this life, but, he declared,

in the words of his late friend, Mark

Twin, that the reports of his demise "have been greatly exaggerated."

It was this way: Dr. Buckner was called early in the week to Hemet,

where he was one of four leading clergyman of the denomination that were the speakers at a series of meetings.

During his absence, a member of his flock called up his home on a matter of church business and was told the pastor had gone to "Heaven." At least, that was what he thought he heard, and although sympatizing with his nervous family,

he did not know what to say and the circumstances, so hung up abruptly.

It was no time, however, until the bad news had traveled among the popular pastor's flock. In the meantime, however Dr. Buckner returned,

not from Heaven, but from Hemet, patting his head and explaining how it all happened.

Although Hemet is located at an

Biggest Sweet Stuff Season
in City Due This Christmas.

This opinion was unanimously expressed today by Santa Ana confec-

tioners.

Concurrent with the drop in price of sugar the cost of manufacturing certain of the harder varieties of candies has also fallen. Soft candies, such as chocolate creams

and others which require more constituents than mere sugar and flavor, have not dropped to any appreciable extent.

All of the candy makers of the city

are agreed on the fact that the coming season promises to be a big one for sweet stuff. Preparations are under way to meet the expected demands. The fact that there has been a decided drop in some lines of candies and a slight drop in others is expected to aid to a great extent in increasing the amount of sales.

W. C. Witman of Witman's confectionery, 417 North Main street,

when asked regarding the matter of lower candy prices said:

"The price of chocolates will not be lowered appreciably. Exclusive of sugar, the materials used, and the labor have not become any less. Hard candy, especially of the variety known as "Christmas mix," will be considerably lower. Previous to this time candy prices have been based on 15-cent sugar. Now they will be based on 10-cent sugar, with an almost proportionate lowering in prices.

Sees Big Season.

"Last season people could not get

sugar and they wanted more candy.

This season they can get sugar and they seem to want more candy. I am preparing for a bigger Christmas

candy season than last year."

At the Lion Kandy Kitchen it was said that prices of hard candy would be at least 10 cents a pound lower than last year. Soft candies will not be appreciably lower. The Kandy

Kitchen is beginning preparations for a bigger Christmas trade than usual.

Clyde Alling, of the Cherry Blossom, making preparations for a Christmas candy trade.

"From present indications we should have about twice as much demand for Christmas candy as in past years," said Alling. "Prices will be somewhat lower than in the previous season on hard candies, but soft candies will not come down to any great extent."

"We are making a great deal more

Christmas candy than last year, because we expect that there will be a greater demand for it. The fact that sugar seems to have settled around 10 cents and gives no evidence of further decline immediately thought in factor which enters into the greater production of candy for the Christmas period. We can make large quantities of candy without being afraid of loss due to a drop in the price of sugar. The increased demand should take care of this,

however, as most of this candy will be sold during the Christmas holidays."

James Tells Views.

W. H. James, of James's confectionery, is of the opinion that the coming Christmas season is going to be a big one for candy makers, although in former years men had

12,492 Pupils in Various Educational Institutions
in County

There are 12,492 pupils in the public schools of Orange county, and all of them are eagerly waiting for December 17 to roll around, for that day will mark the end of the fall term and the beginning of the Christmas holidays.

The figures as to the number of students in the county were given today by J. A. Cranston, superintendent of Santa Ana schools, and by R. P. Mitchell, superintendent of county schools.

In the public schools of Santa Ana

there are 3647 pupils, Cranston stated. The number of pupils in the county, exclusive of Santa Ana, is 8845, according to Mitchell.

Cranston's figures mean that there are at this time 312 more pupils in the city's schools than there were

when the schools opened in September, when the enrollment was 3335.

"These figures indicate conclusively

how rapidly Santa Ana is growing," said Cranston.

Sees 12,235 Population

Cranston called attention to the fact that school authorities in esti-imating the population of a given city

generally figure the school enrollment as one-fifth of the whole. Thus with 3647 pupils enrolled in the city's schools, the population of Santa Ana would be 18,235.

As to the closing of the schools will close for the holidays, December 17 is the time set in Santa Ana,

though the schools in other cities and districts in the county will not close until December 21, according to Mitchell. With the object of obtaining uniformity in closing

TENANTS IN TRIBUTE TO GREEDLESS OWNER

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—Picture tenants giving a reception in honor of their landlord, presenting him with a watch and shedding honest-to-goodness tears because he was relinquishing proprietorship. It actually happened here yesterday. The landlord was F. W. Blanchard, who for twenty-three years has guided the destinies of Blanchard Hall. And in all that time he has never raised the rent of a single tenant.

Sixty tenants, all musicians and artists, gave Blanchard the farewell party.

"As I give up my connection with you it seems as if all my children were being suddenly snatched away from me," said Blanchard to the tenants.

"A landlord who knows no greed," was the tribute of one of the tenants.

DENIES PLAN AFOOT TO REMOVE GROVES

FRESNO, Nov. 30.—"Mr. Groves is a man of honor. I am sure that if he were guilty or thought there was a strong possibility of his conviction on the charges preferred against him by indictment, he would present his resignation. So far I have not received it."

This was the answer given by Dave S. Ewing, Democratic state chairman, to rumors which have been racing over the political wire- less for several days that the Bour- bon state committee was going to unseat F. Ray Groves of Los An- geles, its secretary, who is under in- dictment in connection with the op- erations of a supposed big liquor conspiracy.

"So far as I know there has been no move to remove Groves," said Ewing. "As chairman I would have no authority in the matter. It would require a meeting of the full com- mittee and no meeting is in im- mediate prospect."

"Just because a man is charged with certain offenses or is under in- dictment is no certain indication of his guilt. I know nothing of the case against Groves, or its circum- stances. But I do know that the law and American ways regards a defendant innocent until he is proved guilty."

Although immersed in his private business, Ewing is taking a keen in- terest as an onlooker from the side- lines of the battle for the leadership of the Democratic organizations.

Of the four possible chieftains, Wilson, Bryan, Cox and McAdoo— two of them apparently making ac- tive bids for the leadership through frequent newspaper statements to their fellow partisans, the state chairman declares his personal choice is for the latter.

Questioned on the oft-recurring rumor that James D. Phelan, defeated party candidate for senatorship, would seek the governorship two years from now, Ewing said he had not heard of it before but gave his stamp of approval to Phelan for any office to which the senator might aspire.

ELKS SHOW BIG HIT IN HANDS OF S. A. FOLK

rior of the Eureka Digestive Pill company. W. R. ("Stormy") Gordon, energetically portrays T. Boggs Johns, Nettleton's partner. McNaughtan runs the gamut of the emotions, from almost frenzied tri- umph to excruciating anguish, while Gordon, particularly during the time he is the "butler," keeps his audience in a constant chuckle, what with the dry and nonchalant manner in which he breezes through the part.

Miss Peggy Jones, programmed as "some" stenographer, was everything that the part of Sally Parker called for. Jack Cope, of Krome, the down- trodden and harassed bookkeeper; Bob Gramm, as Jimmy, the tow-head- ed, grinning office boy; Miss Daisy Austin, as Mrs. Nettleton, the tem- peramental wife; Bob Paine, Jr., as Tony Toler, the premier pill sales- man; Miss Maurine Cox, as the at- tractive Florence Cole, a little dis- turber; J. C. Burke, as Samuel Ap- plegate, president of the Northwest- ern Drug Association; Raymond Schulte, as Thomas J. Vanderholt, the pill makers' lawyer; Miss Bess Hill, as Coddies, the romantic Eng- lish servant—all played their parts with verve.

In Limelight

It is somewhat unfair, perhaps, to single out any one of the players for special mention. However, due to opportunities offered by particular roles, several of the players were in the limelight more than others. There was J. Chesterfield Burke, for in- stance, who, in a silk hat, frock coat and "Dundrearies," was more than an imposing corporation president. And what a world of poise had this same J. Chesterfield—it was a par- ticularly satiric bit of humor on the part of some mischievous Brother Elk which caused him (J. Chester- field) to be billed as "Master" Joe C. Burke.

And then, again, there was Miss Bess Hill, who won for herself as many laughs as anyone, in the part of the English servant. Miss Hill's makeup, her costume and her antics on the stage were an unending de- light.

And Raymond Schulte must be given credit for what he did with the role of the lawyer. In this part, Schulte was unctuousness itself. And Miss Maurine Cox was undoubtedly as charming a "little disturber" as could have been obtained for "Purple Flashes." And Bob Paine, Jr., how perfectly self-possessed he was, and how joyously he romped through the part of "the premier pill sales- man." And then—but why contin- ue singling out particular ones of the cast?—every player did exceedingly well.

Musical Numbers Pleasing

The musical interlacements were pleasing. The solos given by Harry E. Schauer, A. J. Garroway and Bob Paine, Jr., were enthusiastically re- ceived. The young women of the chorus sang their numbers charm- ingly. In fact, as concerns the mu- sical diversifications, they were all and more than could be expected.

Attractively and appropriately costumed, Mrs. Charles Swanner re- presented an Elks' Girl; Miss Catherine Schultz a Southern Girl; Miss Hazel Hamilton a Chinese Girl; Miss Blanche Hill a Poppy Girl; Miss Margaret Flagg a Military Girl; Miss Jimmy Flagg the Red Girl; Miss Alice Huntington the Pink Girl; Mrs. Eva M. Olander, the Blue Girl; Miss Muriel Cravath, the Green Girl, and Mrs. Hans Wagoner, the Bride. Those in the chorus were the Misses Velma Manette, Mary Geyer, Anita Cox, Vi- olet Cook, Iris Head, Glenne Jean Hill, Beatrice Cartwright, Helen Mateer, Be-the-na Selway and Alice Mateer.

There is no doubt that when "Purple Flashes" is given its second showing tonight the performance will run even more smoothly than it did last night. The initial presentation was greeted by a large audience, and there is every reason to believe that tonight's crowd will be equally as large.

"Yellow Dogs" Active

And the "Yellow Dogs" must not be forgotten, for they contributed much to the hilarity last night. Who were the "Yellow Dogs"? They were Elks, made up as Chinese, and sold candy during the intermissions. What's more, they SOLD it.

Each bag of candy bears a number. The person holding the number cor- responding to the third one drawn from a basket containing duplicates of all the numbers on bags sold is declared the winner of a $25 box of candy. Mrs. Eva M. Olander was the winner last night.

The "Yellow Dogs" will be "on the job" tonight and again tomorrow night. The drawing for candy will be featured on both nights.

The candy "butchers" are C. E. Jackson, William Cheney, William H. Tichenal, Sam Burke, C. W. Hutch- ings, S. M. Reinhaus, H. M. Shissler, Frank Sawyer, R. W. Collins and Raymond Carey. Those on the can- dy committee are A. G. Flagg, chair- man; Frank Hammett and Clyde Al- ling.

Release for Women who Suffer

The multitude of American women who suffer terribly day after day and year after year from ills peculiar to their sex is almost beyond belief, —yet there is hardly a town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman, and often many, do not reside who have been restored to health from some of the worst forms of female ills, and often avoided operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

These Two Women Tell of Their Experience.

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at all without resting. If I swept the floor or did any kind of work it would bring my sickness on. I was weak and languid, had no energy, and life was a misery to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies. I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and at present am an attendant at a State Hospital and am feeling fine. I shall always recommend your Vegetable Compound."—LILLIAN THAYER, 624 South 6th Street, Carrollton, Ky.

Onalaska, Wis.—"Every month I had such pains in my back and lower part of stomach I could not lie in bed. I suffered so it seemed as though I would die, and I was not regular either. I suffered for a year and was unfit to do my housework, could only wash dishes once in a while. I read an advertise- ment of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women and decided to try it. It surely did wonders for me. I have no pains now and can do my own housework without any trouble at all. I will always praise your medicine as I do not believe there is a doctor that can do as much good for female weak- ness as can Lydia E. Pinkham's Vege- table Compound and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. LESTER E. WARNER, R. 1, Box 69, Onalaska, Wis.

Why 50,000 Owners Rely on the Essex

All concede average abil- ity in any modern car. So it was to prove ability far beyond what any light car ever has shown that Essex made its famous endurance tests.

Its 3037 miles in 50 hours is a world's endurance re- cord. The test was official. Supervisors of the A. A. A. certified the Essex stock chassis in every detail.

What car has ever proved the consistency and en- durance Essex showed in 4 times breaking the trans- continental record between San Francisco and New York?

Hundreds of cars, many costing $4000 to $6000, had sought for four years in vain to break the coveted record. And then Essex in its first attempt did it four times with four different cars.

Is it any wonder that its 50,000 owners do not even attempt to conceal the con- fidence they feel in the de- pendable service of their cars?

A Few Essex Endurance Proofs

Four Essex cars, each break Transcontinental Record, between San Francisco and New York

3037 miles in 50 hours, official record, world's greatest endurance mark.

Same Essex stock car, in 3 tests travels a total of 5870 miles in 94 hours, 22 minutes, averaging more than a mile a minute.

Sets World's dirt track mark, 1261 miles in 24 hours.

PASADENA, Nov. 30.—Congress- man Charles H. Randall in a tele- gram from Jacksonville, Fla., wires that after an extended conference with Governor Catfish and with rep- resentative fruit growers at the Flor- ida State Fair, he is pleased to an- nounce that Florida will join heartily the California lemon growers in their demand for adequate protection in the new tariff bill.

He further fires that the pine- apple industry of Florida has been ruined by foreign competition and that the whole South is turning to the protective tariff policy.

LEAGUE FORCES TO GUARD VILNA VOTE

GENEVA, Nov. 30.—The League of Nations armed force will leave for Vilna Wednesday, it was announced here today.

British, French and Spanish troops will comprise the detachment sent to supervise the plebiscite to decide whether Vilna shall be assigned to Poland or Lithuania. There were indications Swedish and Norwegian troops will be dispatched to Vilna also.

This week's session of the league assembly is to see the resumption of open debates. Last week most of the discussions were in the commissions to which were assigned the various problems confronting the league. Their reports this week will provide the framework for debate. The questions of disarmament and the establishment of an international court are expected to bring out the warmest discussions.

HOUSE QUESTION UP TO NATIONAL ASSN.

Among the subjects to be discussed during the convention will be: "Rent Situation," "Various Methods of Stimulating New Construction," "Financing the Home Owner," "Government Housing in its Various Phases," "Co-operative Ownership of Housing Projects," "Encouraging Investments in Real Estate Mortgages," "How Building Associations and Banks Can Help in Financing Home Ownership," "Relation between Landlords and Tenants," "The Share of Labor in Encouraging New Building Construction," "Methods of Reducing Costs of Operation," and "New Kinds of Building Material Discovered through War Necessities."

There will be a general discussion of unwise building laws and motion pictures showing a typical English Garden City and its possible application to American needs. The effects on health and morals of overcrowding will also be brought up.

S. A. GIRL TELLS OF ARGENTINE PARCEL POST

NOTE: The following article was written for the Register by Miss Hester D. Robinson, daughter of Mrs. W. K. Robinson, of Santa Ana. Miss Robinson is now at Buenos Aires, Argentina, where she is engaged in advertising and newspaper work.

By HESTER D. ROBINSON.

When an American comes to the Argentine from the United States he instructs his friends to send him the latest books, magazines, certain pieces of clothing that are strictly American and other articles which he thinks he will be unable to obtain in Buenos Aires. And, in turn, he promises to send to his friends such things as mate, the favorite tea of the Argentines, mate jugs, and other souvenirs of interest.

And as soon as the "tenderfoot" begins to speak to his Buenos Aires friends of the parcels from home which he expects to receive on each mail boat, they at once relate to him long tales of maddening experiences connected with drawing parcel post from the Argentine postoffice. The newcomer is likely to give little credence to these tales, putting them down as the usual parlance designed for the uninitiated—until his first package arrives! After that he keeps the "All American Cables" busy with messages of warning to his homeland which forbid the sending of further gifts.

Much Red Tape.

For some mysterious reason, the point of which no stranger has ever quite been able to understand, the parcel post system for incoming and outgoing mail in the Argentine is tied up with more red tape than a Christmas present. It is so difficult to get parcels in and out of this republic that the traffic in that kind of mail, so important in the United States, has been reduced to the lowest possible minimum.

In the first place, the sense of honor among the postal employees who handle this kind of mail seems to be at the ebb always, for many parcels, started in or out of the country in the pink of condition come to be labeled as "missing in action," or arrive minus part or all of their contents. For the Argentine is a socialistic and sociable sort of a person and believes in sharing his neighbor's goods with himself.

In the second place, a leisurely man is maintained by the Buenos Aires postal authorities in regard to dealing with parcel post. "Tomorrow is another day," they say, and accordingly, a notice may arrive at the door of the addressee of the parcel any time within a week or two after it has come in.

And when the busy business man who receives the first notice of this kind, hurries to the postoffice with it, he is informed that without his passport, nothing can be done in the matter of releasing the parcel. When he returns with the passport, the postal officials may not accept that as sufficient means of identification, and often require that some prominent citizen be brought to swear to the identity of the addressee.

Is Sent Upstairs.

Finally, all things being considered, and on that question, the individual is sent upstairs to another office where he is issued the "papel cellado," or government stamp, for which he is charged two pesos and sixty-nine centavos, always. This stamp entitles him to go downstairs again and claim his parcel. The delay in these transactions usually amounts to an hour or two.

When the addressee finally is admitted to the room in which his parcel is kept, he must wait again until the postal clerk can sort it out of the conglomerate pile in which it is to be found. It is then opened, the contents are examined, a duty is placed on them—sometimes equaling the value of the goods which the thoughtful friend has sent as a gift—and the addressee is sent to another corner of the large postoffice building to pay the duty. When he returns, with his receipt, the goods at last are placed into his weary hands. At this point he usually seeks the cable office in order to prevent a repetition of his morning's labor.

A prominent English business man reports that one of his first experiences in Buenos Aires was with the postoffice and a parcel. A friend unfortunately—and unknowingly—he said, sent him a package of his favorite brand of cigarettes from London, dispatching it so that it arrived shortly after the traveler. He spent nearly a day at the postoffice endeavoring to comply with the requirements, but was handicapped by his inability to understand the language. Finally, when he saw that the package contained his favorite "smokes," the Englishman felt in part repaid. He hurried upstairs to pay the high duty fixed, leaving the clerk wrapping up the package. But a few minutes later, when he sat down in a little cafe to enjoy his cigarettes, he found upon opening the parcel that the luxury-loving Argentine clerk had appropriated all of the cigarettes, leaving only the empty box.

Hard to Get Parcels.

"We paid several dollars one year for a pair of socks and a handkerchief," said one little southern woman. "When we found out how hard it was to get parcels out of the postoffice, we wrote to everyone we knew and told them never to send any. But my mother could not let Christmas go by without sending something. So it took my husband all morning and evening to get parcels. An interpreter, the government stamp and a duty to get our Christmas gift."

Many people refuse to call for parcels of little value, or refuse to take them when a high duty is placed on them. An American woman left a pair of rubbers in Montevideo, and since her friend had notified her that they were being sent by parcel post, the addressee never called for them, for the "papel cellado" alone would have cost more than the price of new rubbers. Thus, the postoffice gathers unto itself many stray articles, and holds periodical auction sales of the goods, just as the central postoffice in New York has done for many years. One man reports that he never calls for his parcels, if he knows what they contain, but waits until the auction sale takes

Southern California

POMONA—Col. D. R. C. Cabell, who was a major general in the late war, in command of the Southern Department of the United States Army, is in this city visiting H. R. Cannon. Colonel Cabell, now retired, is a veteran Indian fighter and fought in both the Spanish-American War and in the Boxer rebellion in China. During the Mexican border troubles, Colonel Cabell was in command of the Fourth Cavalry. He was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for service in the war.

SANTA BARBARA—Oil is reported flowing above the casing of the new well which E. G. Lewis, founder of Atascadero, has been drilling in the Carrisa plains adjoining the Cuyama valley, and northwest of Maricopa. A tremendous gas pressure was encountered at a depth of 900 feet, it is said.

PASADENA — Herman Dyer, pioneer of Pasadena and for thirty years city clerk here, died at his home, following a long illness. He was nearly 70 years old, a native of Manchester, Vt. Mr. Dyer retired as city clerk only last summer, when a pension was voted him by the city commission. A widow and one son, Clifford Dyer, survive. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 10 a. m.

LONG BEACH—Mrs. Ada Jones, 24, found in a dying condition Saturday at her home, with a bullet hole in her abdomen, expired in the arms of her husband, David Jones. The woman's body is at Byrum, Brunschwitz & Baken's morgue, where an inquest will be held. The police are continuing an investigation.

LOS ANGELES—Moonshine whiskey was substituted for trading stamps in a scheme for drumming up trade tried by Jack Raymond, Pasadena junk dealer. Raymond pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Ascar Trippett to two counts in an information against him with selling and transporting liquor in violation of the Volstead act. The whiskey was sold to a prospective customer as an inducement to secure his patronage, Raymond told the judge. A fine of $300 was assessed, $150 for each count.

LOS ANGELES—Geo. W. Lyons, defeated candidate for Supervisor from the Second District, filed suit in Superior Court against J. R. Bean, successful candidate, for a recount of the votes. The petition, which was prepared by Attorney George Cryer, charges misconduct on the part of the election officers.

RAINS CAUSE DELAY IN RICE HARVESTING

OAKDALE, Nov. 30.—The rice men have been badly handicapped by the heavy rains in their harvest, but in this district they will not suffer heavy loss. Most of the rice has been taken off the ground, but had not been threshed. A few more days of sunshiny weather, however, will permit the harvesters to get to work. The yield from what land has already been threshed far exceeded the expectations of the growers and most of them expect to get out this season with some profit, despite the low prices of rice.

YOUTH WINS WEALTH BY 700-FOOT JUMP

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—Fritz Schaaf, Hotel Adlon page boy, jumped into a fortune. That is literally true. A film company wanted someone who would jump from a tower 700 feet high into a net. Schaaf, 19 years old, allowed he was willing to try a "Steve Brodie," especially as there was money in it.

He jumped while the movie machine cranked and came out sound except for a wrenched ankle. The company has put 75,000 marks in trust for him until he is of age after which he hopes eventually to get into the hotel or restaurant business for himself. The money is about the equivalent of an ordinary worker's wages for six years.

"Fashions in surgery change as frequently as fashions in women's hats," says Arthur Brisbane in the Los Angeles Examiner TODAY.

Others never attempt to go through the endless red tape, but employ the services of one of the several agencies which owe their existence to the stringency of the Buenos Aires postoffice in this respect. While all foreigners agree that a certain rigidity is necessary in the matter of inspecting parcels which are likely to carry dutiable imports and exports, the whole cumbersome and unfair system is entirely out of harmony with the characteristic progressiveness of the Argentine.

WHEN LINCOLN FREED THE SLAVES

Bourne Spooner was an overseer in a rope walk in New Orleans, employing slave labor exclusively. He was a northern man, a strong opponent of slavery. He saw the economic inefficiency of unpaid labor. He believed that better rope, at less cost, could be made in the north by free men. So he resigned his position and in 1824 came back to New England to prove his contention, choosing Plymouth as the site for his new rope walk.

When in 1863 Abraham Lincoln signed the historic document that struck from over a million black men the shackles holding them in bondage, this company had proven over a period of 39 years that slavery was an economic waste.

The rope made at Plymouth was good rope—so good that the old rope walk has expanded until the buildings of the company now house the largest rope works in the world.

DESCRIPTION OF OCTOPUS GIVEN BY BIOLOGIST

An interesting description of the octopus is given in a paper just issued for publication by W. E. Allen, a biologist connected with the Scripps Biological Institute, University of California, at La Jolla.

Allen's paper follows: Most people are familiar with the general appearance of an octopus because of its extensive use by political cartoonists to show the greed, the wide spread influence, the entangling character, and the insidious power of political opponents of capitalistic organizations and of graft or vice rings.

It so happens that the animal is well suited to such representation in cartoons not only by general appearance but also by certain of its activities. The eight snake-like arms can twist and knot themselves more intricately than any of the hundreds of sucking disks on the lower side of the arms are terrifying in operation, the small tips of the arms insinuate themselves into tiny crevices with convincing thoroughness, the cloud of ink thrown out in the water in which the frightened animal may hide itself, is very suggestive of dark ink, its power of changing color to suit its surroundings is confusing and its habit of hiding in dark corners and crevices inspires fear and distrust. Furthermore, the soft rounded body is shaped like a leather money bag and the large staring eyes give the impression of insatiable greed and relentless ferocity. What better model could an enterprising cartoonist desire?

High Intelligence
But it must not be supposed that this animal is interesting in this way alone. For one thing it seems to have reached about the highest stage of development of an invertebrate animal. Its intelligence is quite remarkable. At one time while wandering amongst the rocks at low tide, I saw a small octopus come swimming into a large clear tide pool in one of the larger breakers. There was only one small stone behind which to hide and this it immediately used but it could not get entirely concealed. I stepped aside to pick up a small stone to throw into the pool, but meanwhile another breaker came in and the octopus swam out. It seemed to know as well as I that it was not fully concealed. At another time I captured a small one by overturning a flat rock at low tide and I placed it in a pail which I was using to carry specimens. I had a good deal of trouble keeping it in the pail and so kept close watch on it. Then I saw an interesting shell beside a rock. I looked at the octopus to see that it was in the bottom of the pail, then I stooped quickly to pick up the shell which required a moment for detachment. When I turned to put it in the pail, the octopus was gone and could not be found. Apparently it had vanished into thin air as things are supposed to have done in the "good old days" of witchcraft.

One interesting feature of the structure of the octopus is its eye. This is shaped like the human eye and its make-up is strikingly similar but the processes of development are different. Here we have an excellent illustration of the fact that nature can arrive at similar results by widely different series of operations.

Power of Arms
Another prominent point of structure is the sucking disk found in rows on the lower surface of the arms. This is a very short cylinder in which a piston may be moved slightly by muscles. When the face of the disk is pressed against an object and the muscles pull the piston inward, the pressure of air or water on the outside causes the disk to adhere strongly to the object. Since the octopus feeds mainly on crabs, lobsters, and the like, it may be easily understood that an enormous number of these sucking disks is very helpful in catching or holding its prey.

Still another wonderful equipment possessed by the octopus is a set of color changing devices in its skin. This apparatus is so very effective that the animal is able to change almost instantly when passing from contact with a surface of one color to that of another. For instance, if it moves from a brown rock to a green one, its color is changed to match almost as soon as the change of position is made. In the aquarium it sometimes seems as though the animal were trying to imitate its full powers of color changes, for as one watches he may see ripples of color run over the surface of the animal. These color changes remind one of the shifting colors of "changeable silk." Such changes in color are due to changes in shape of tiny color bodies in the skin, the shapes of which are controlled by muscles.

From the foregoing it may be seen that the octopus is a really remarkable animal even though it is not known to grow to such a size as to be dangerous to man. In truth it has far more fear from man than he from it because it is an excellent human food taster, somewhat like the oyster to which it is remotely akin. Octopi with a greater spread of arms than six feet are very rarely found. One of the near kin, the giant squid, may reach a length of about thirty feet, however. The animal does not thrive in captivity and most specimens are very short lived in aquaria.

In most parts of the world they are not usually very abundant, though quite common on some rocky coasts. But one of the scientists at Plymouth Laboratory in England, reports a plague of octopi on his shores in 1899 and 1900. In some parts of this region the crab and lobster fisheries were almost destroyed by the great numbers of octopi. This occurrence shows that the animals may at times have very high economic importance. Catching and marketing of octopi for food is mainly done in the Mediterranean where earthenware pots are lowered into the water and the animals caught when they use them for hiding places.

JAP GAME FISH EGGS REACH U. S. SAFELY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—At last the California Fish and Game Commission have met with success in its attempts to import the eggs of the Ayu, a trout-like fish of Japan, said to be a splendid game fish, reaching a maximum length of ten inches. It takes the fly readily and will make a valuable addition to California streams.

According to a recent bulletin of the commission, a shipment of the eggs was received in this city alive after many attempts proving discouraging, for the eggs invariably died in transit. This shipment of eggs was deposited on coconut fiber and kept moist with saturated cloth and were kept at low temperature in the refrigerator room on the steamer.

On arriving here they were repacked in shipping cases used by the California commission and were shipped to the Mt. Shasta hatchery, where they are now in the process of being hatched.

No other state has attempted the introduction of the species.

THINKS SENATE WILL REFUSE TO CONFIRM

FRESNO, Nov. 30.—Before his departure for Washington to assume his new duties as a member of the federal shipping board, Chester H. Rowell of this city last night expressed the conviction that enough votes would be mustered in the senate to block the confirmation of the appointments of members of the shipping board.

"I rather anticipate that confirmation of the appointments by President Wilson will be beaten by the senate, and have expected just such a result from the start," said Rowell.

"This attitude, I believe, will hold not only against the members of the shipping board but against any and all Wilson appointments. By blocking confirmation the Republican majority will confine the appointments to the recess period and will thus give President Harding the privilege of picking the men he chooses. Incidentally, it would give the Republicans the majority on the commission of one member as they will serve as recess appointees or until March 4, when the new administration takes the helm."

Leaves for Washington.
Rowell will reach his destination just in time to attend the first meeting of the shipping board, which has been scheduled for December 1.

In discussing the immediate problems of the board he said: "There are several matters of vital importance to come before the board at its early meetings. Probably the chief one is that of allocation of several new passenger steamers which have just been completed in eastern yards. Six are ready at present. All of them are as big and fine vessels as those of the Northern Pacific line. My hope is that some of them may be allocated to service on the Pacific coast."

REPORT ON GRAZING IN TRINITY FOREST

WEAVERVILLE, Trinity Co., Nov. 30.—According to the annual report from the Trinity National forest, there were grazed in the forest last season 15,469 cattle and horses, 22,247 sheep and goats, and 1,125 hogs. These are exclusive of what were grazed on private lands within the forest boundaries—2,975 cattle and horses, 6,850 sheep and goats and 220 hogs.

Many more 2-year-old cattle were sold than in former years, showing that stockmen generally are raising better grades of cattle.

Ranchers are giving more attention to winter feeding and cutting down the number grazed in the forest through the summer.

They have found it does not pay to put on fat in the summer and then lose it in the winter for the lack of feed.

It is interesting to note, the report says, that seventy-five cattle and 690 sheep were lost during the season. Sheep fell prey to coyotes, but the loss was slight where the Biological Survey trappers have been employed.

An interesting experiment was made this season by grazing 1,000 goats on range that had already been gone over by sheep. The goats did well.

The past season was unfavorable because of the drought, but owing to rains later in the season, cattle now are in good shape.

ORANGE HOUSES USE SWEATING SYSTEM

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 30.—Citrus packing houses in this district, within the Mutual Indemnity compact, an organization within the California Fruit Growers exchange, are installing new generating plants for the use in sweating citrus fruit. The new plants are located on the outside of the packing house, as a result of a ruling made by the Mutual Indemnity compact.

A number of the houses out of the compact have already installed these plants. The gas is forced by fans from the outside plant through a system of pipes into the sweat room.

The new system is an improvement over the old system of coloring fruit and at the same time it is a safeguard against a fire hazard.

CONVICTED SLAYER OF NOME MAN PARDONED

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 30.—Anton Clausen, serving a life sentence in the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas., for the alleged murder of Robert Ford, a saloon-keeper, at Nome, Alaska, according to a dispatch from Washington, D. C. He had served twelve years and six months of his sentence.
